YEAR 3 AND 4 – READING AND WRITING POETRY

Narrative Poetry

*I really did do my work, Miss
I started it last night, promise!
The thing is that when I was done
My naughty pup thought it was fun
To grab my book and race around
Then lie down with it on the ground
Licking, sucking, chomping, biting
Suddenly there was no writing!
It's not my fault if maths tastes good
I really didn't think it would
For next week's homework why don't you
Try giving me some art to do?*

Between Languages Sarah Lynn Higley,2010-11-01 Early Welsh and Old English poetry are rarely spoken of together but when they are they have been described as like or different from one another Sarah Higley breaks this cycle of mutual marginalization by examining what it means to read otherness or sameness into a text concluding that too much of our reading is anglo centric in its expectations and dictated by invisible ideological agendas Examinations of the Llywarch Hen Corpus for instance have sought comparisons among the Old English elegies but mainly for the purpose of demonstrating how the Welsh are of a color with them derived from the same penitential genre merely less explicit in their penitential thrust Scholars have been reluctant to acknowledge the secular nature of these Welsh laments which are discomfitingly silent about divine solace and which like the Old English poems do not cooperate with our efforts to categorize them The author reexamines notions of genre category and poetic explicitness and how they snare us Higley sees the English and Welsh traditions as foils to one another rather than as template and variation and she starts with the connection of natural image and emotion employed differently in these two contiguous but separate traditions She shows how the English poems long thought to be disjointed and cryptic are invested in explanation and disclosure to a degree that the Welsh are not The Welsh omissions might be better understood as dynamic juxtapositions wherein other poetic aspects metrics imagery context serve to link ideas perhaps even to disrupt them She sees difficulty ambiguity and dialogism as loci of power neither accidents of our reading distance nor defects in other classical standards of wholeness Reading the English and the Welsh together with a respect for the mutual differences helps us to get beyond some of the clichés about what is English and familiar and what is Celtic and other Her argument revolves around the plight of the lone human as he or she is depicted in these texts in a precarious state of connection with the rest of the world caught between society and wilderness inside and outside sacred and secular meaning and nonmeaning This focus on connection informs the title as well between languages expresses our position as readers reading two different cultures together reading ancient literature mediated through modern poetic theory and the position of medieval scholarship in its struggle between traditional and postmodern approaches Between Languages brings obscure and moving poems into a wider academic orbit offering new editions and translations of Old English and Early Welsh elegies wisdom poems and enigmas including one of the few complete English translations in this century of a vatic text from The Book of Taliesin A Students' Treasury of Texas Poetry Billy Bob Hill,2007 A collection of 150 poems about Texas covering the history culture geography natural environment and ethnic diversity of the state English Journal ,1990
