The State of the System Paul W. Bennett, 2020-09-23 Over the last fifty years Canada's public schools have been absorbed into a modern education system that functions much like Max Weber's infamous iron cage. Crying out for democratic school level reform, the system is now a centralized bureaucratic fortress that every year becomes softer on standards for students less accessible to parents further out of touch with communities and surprisingly unresponsive to classroom teachers. Exploring the nature of the Canadian education order in all its dimensions, The State of the System explains how public schools came to be so bureaucratic, confronts the critical issues facing kindergarten to grade 12 public schools in all ten provinces, and addresses the need for systemic reform. Going beyond a diagnosis of the stresses, strains, and ills present in the system, Paul Bennett proposes a bold plan to re-engineer schools on a more human scale as the first step in truly reforming public education. In place of school consolidation and managerialism, one size fits all uniformity, limited school choice, and the success for all curriculum, Bennett advocates for a new set of priorities: decentralize school governance, deprogram education ministries and school districts, listen to parents and teachers, and revitalize local education democracy. Tackling the thorny issues besetting contemporary school systems in Canada, The State of the System issues a clarion call for more responsive, engaged, and accountable public schools.

The New Localism Bruce Katz, Jeremy Nowak, 2018-01-09 The New Localism provides a roadmap for change that starts in the communities where most people live and work. In their new book The New Localism, urban experts Bruce Katz and Jeremy Nowak reveal where the real power to create change lies and how it can be used to address our most serious social, economic, and environmental challenges. Power is shifting in the world downward from national governments and states to cities and metropolitan communities, horizontally from the public sector to networks of public, private, and civic actors, and globally along circuits of capital, trade, and innovation. This new locus of power, this new localism, is emerging by necessity to solve the grand challenges characteristic of modern societies: economic competitiveness, social inclusion, and opportunity; a renewed public life; the challenge of diversity; and the imperative of environmental sustainability. Where rising populism on the right and the left exploits the grievances of those left behind in the global economy, new localism has developed as a mechanism to address them head-on. New localism is not a replacement for the vital roles federal governments play; it is the ideal complement to an effective federal government and currently an urgently needed remedy for national dysfunction. In The New Localism, Katz and Nowak tell the stories of the cities that are on the vanguard of problem-solving: Pittsburgh is catalyzing inclusive growth by inventing and deploying new industries and technologies; Indianapolis is governing its city and metropolis through a network of public, private, and civic leaders; Copenhagen is using publicly owned assets like their waterfront to spur large-scale redevelopment and finance infrastructure from land sales. Out of these stories emerge new norms of growth, governance, and finance, and a path toward a more prosperous, sustainable, and inclusive society. Katz and Nowak imagine a world in which urban institutions finance the future.

through smart investments in innovation infrastructure and children and urban intermediaries take solutions created in one city and adapt and tailor them to other cities with speed and precision As Katz and Nowak show us in The New Localism Power now belongs to the problem solvers Bloomberg Chris McNickle, 2017-09-19 Examine the Bipartisan Legacy of a Remarkable Billionaire Politician Bloomberg A Billionaire's Ambition tells the story of how one of America's most successful entrepreneurs was elected mayor of New York City and what he did with the power he won Bloomberg's stunning victory against all odds just weeks after the 9/11 terrorist attack left him facing challenges unlike any mayor in history For the next twelve years he kept the city safe managed budgets through fiscal crises promoted private sector growth generated jobs built infrastructure protected the environment supported society's cultural sensibilities and achieved dramatic improvements in public health Bloomberg was an activist executive who used government assets boldly and wisely for the greatest good for the greatest number of people His time as mayor was not without controversy Bloomberg supported stop and frisk police tactics that a judge ruled unconstitutional and jailhouse violence rose to levels so severe the federal government intervened The administration's homeless policies were ineffective And he forced a change in the city charter to allow him to serve a third term Overall record low crime and the lasting impact of innovative policies will cause his tenure to be remembered as a remarkable success Having returned to his global media empire and to his private philanthropy Bloomberg continues to challenge the National Rifle Association on gun control promote national education reform and support policies to combat climate change Frequently touted as an independent candidate for president Bloomberg leaves behind a legacy of effective government Kids Count New Jersey ... ,2016 After the Education Wars Andrea Gabor, 2018-06-12 The education wars have been demoralizing for teachers After the Education Wars helps us to see a better way forward Cathy N Davidson The New York Times Book Review After the Education Wars is an important book that points the way to genuine reform Diane Ravitch author of Reign of Error and The Death and Life of the Great American School System A bestselling business journalist critiques the top down approach of popular education reforms and profiles the unexpected success of schools embracing a nimbler more democratic entrepreneurialism In an entirely fresh take on school reform business journalist and bestselling author Andrea Gabor argues that Bill Gates Eli Broad and other leaders of the prevailing education reform movement have borrowed all the wrong lessons from the business world After the Education Wars explains how the market based measures and carrot and stick incentives informing today's reforms are out of sync with the nurturing culture that good schools foster and contrary to popular belief at odds with the best practices of thriving twenty first century companies as well These rich detailed stories of real reform in action illustrate how enduring change must be deeply collaborative and relentlessly focused on improvement from the grass roots up lessons also learned from both the open source software and quality movements The good news is that solutions born of this philosophy are all around us from Brockton Massachusetts where the state's once failing largest high school now sends most graduates to college to Leander Texas a large district

Discrimination based on Colour, Ethnic Origin, Language, Religion and Belief in Turkey's Education System Nurcan Kaya, 2015-10-27 The Turkish government is urged to make a fundamental shift in its approach to education by Minority Rights Group International MRG in a new report A long standing focus on state building has been supplemented by increasing emphasis on religious teaching Both feature strongly in the education system in Turkey making schools a focus of discrimination The report Discrimination based on Colour Ethnic Origin Language Religion and Belief in Turkey s Education System reveals evidence of discrimination of minority groups and suggests comprehensive reforms to effectively ensure equality The national education system which for decades aimed to create young Turkish nationalists has in recent years become a vehicle for raising young religious Turkish nationalists says Nurcan Kaya Turkey Coordinator of Minority Rights Group International Religious education is compulsory from grade four in primary schools While some information on world religions has been introduced the emphasis remains on teaching Sunni Muslim religious practices Children of Jewish and Christian families may apply to opt out but the process can be cumbersome and in many schools alternatives are not provided for them Non Muslim students who have opted out can still find themselves having to remain in the religious instruction class or alternatively having to wander in the school corridor making them vulnerable to taunts from pupils and even teachers The opt out possibility is still not available to children of other minorities Another issue is mother tongue education In 2012 a new elective on the living languages and dialects in Turkey was introduced but due to various limitations minorities remain marginalised others in the education system Subsequent to the 2012 reform the report monitors discrimination in the formal education system in the period of the academic year of 2014 2015 The findings are based on the field work of the Monitoring Discrimination in Education Network an alliance of 16 organizations working in Turkey The report compiles numerous cases of discrimination based on language religion ethnicity skin colour and the level of income In order to bring about a fundamental solution to these problems in the education system the government must prioritise developing an approach that sees all groups as equal and that responds to demands for rights based on such an understanding of equality says Kaya The report highlights that Turkey has no anti discrimination law or an equality commission to which victims of discrimination can apply The existing legislation contains no effective and accessible means of judicial remedies or compensation Therefore many discriminatory practices are not reported to school administrations The entire education system is based on Turkishness Non Turkish groups are either not referred to or referred in a negative way says Kaya Education system has played a significant role in deepening conflict in society The positive representation of other groups in the education system would contribute to social peace and harmony In order to resolve the many problems in the education system that the current approach causes the overall aim of government education policy should be cleared of ideological references and the protection of children s best interests and the right to education in line with international standards should be considered its fundamental goal says the report
