My Pet Essay Parrot:

The Science Delusion Curtis White, 2013-05-28 One of our most brilliant social critics author of the bestselling The Middle Mind presents a scathing critique of the delusions of science alongside a rousing defense of the tradition of Romanticism and the big questions With the rise of religion critics such as Richard Dawkins and of pseudo science advocates such as Malcolm Gladwell and Jonah Lehrer you are likely to become a subject of ridicule if you wonder Why is there something instead of nothing or What is our purpose on earth Instead at universities around the world and in the general cultural milieu we are all being taught that science can resolve all questions without the help of philosophy politics or the humanities In short the rich philosophical debates of the 19th century have been nearly totally abandoned argues critic Curtis White An atheist himself White nonetheless calls this new turn scientism and fears what it will do to our culture if allowed to flourish without challenge In fact in scientism White sees a new religion with many unexamined assumptions In this brilliant multi part critique he aims at a TED talk by a distinguished neuroscientist in which we are told that human thought is merely the product of our connectome a map of neural connections in the brain that is yet to be fully understood He whips a widely respected physicist who argues that our new understanding of the origins of the universe obviates any philosophical inquiry and ends with a learned defense of the tradition of Romanticism which White believes our technology and science obsessed world desperately needs to rediscover It is the only way he argues that we can see our world clearly and change it

But perhaps he should as the school some say was founded by a pirate. Even stranger at the end of each year the four worst behaved pupils are banished to the terrifying Sin Bin Island where they must survive for a week. Legend has it the island was once used to smuggle magic onto the mainland but in over 300 years the magic has never been found. Until now. The culmination of a lifetime's fascination with humour in all its forms this book is the first in any language to embrace such an impressive span of authors and such a broad range of topics in French literary humour. In nine wide ranging chapters Walter Redfern considers diverse writers and topics including Diderot viewed as a laughing philosopher mainly through his fiction, Les Bijoux indiscrets, Le Neveu de Rameau and Jacques le fataliste, humourlessness corralling Rousseau, Sade, the Christian God and Jean Pierre Brisset the aesthete Huysmans in both his avatars Symbolist and Naturalist, A Rebours, Sac au dos and other texts, the dramatic use of parrots by Flaubert, Queneau and Beckett, Vall's and la blague, exaggeration in Vall's and Celine, Mort credit and L'Enfant, the fiction plays and autobiography of Sartre, bad jokes in Beckett, wordplay in Tournier's fiction especially Roi des aulnes and Les M^tores, Five interleaved riffs on laughter, dreams, black humour, politics and taste carry the enquiry into questions of humour outside of the purely French context, enhancing a book that impresses as much with its vivacity of style as with the breadth and depth of its scholarship Strategies for Test-taking Success Newman, 2005-07
