

MY FAVOURITE ROOM

Hi! My name's Paul and this is my bedroom. It's small but very comfortable. The walls of my room are light blue and there is a blue carpet on the floor. I've got a single bed in my bedroom. It's between my chest of drawers and my desk. There is a window with blue curtains above my bed. My desk is blue and my chair is black. I've got a computer, some books and a globe on my desk. There is a map on the wall above my desk because Geography is my favorite subject at school. On the chest of drawers, where I put my clothes, there is an aquarium with my fish Goldy. I love music and sport. You can see my football and my guitar on the floor. I spend most of my free time in my bedroom.

profound responses to shifting urban conditions framing his enduring relationship with the city as a critical perspective and conceiving his art as urban theory Smith argues that Oldenburg adapted lessons of context gleaned from New York's changing cityscape in the late 1950s to large scale objects and architectural plans By examining disparate projects from New York to Los Angeles she situates Oldenburg's innovations in local geographies and national debates In doing so Smith illuminates patterns of urbanization through the important contributions of one of the leading artists in the United States

Intentional David Amerland, 2021-06-23 Live your life the way you want to Manage stress better Be more resilient and enjoy meaningful relationships and better health We all want that Such life leads to better choices better jobs loving romantic partners more rewarding careers and decisions that are fully aligned with our aims What stops us from getting all that is the complexity of our brain and the complicated way in which the external world comes together The misalignment between the internal states we experience and the external circumstances we encounter often leads to confusion a lack of clarity in our thinking and actions that are not consistent with our professed values Intentional is a gameplan It helps us connect the pieces of our mind to the pieces of our life It shows us how to map what we feel to what has caused those feelings It helps us understand what affects us and what effects it has on us It makes it possible for us to determine what we want why we want it and what we need to do to get it When we know what to do we know how to behave When we know how to behave we know how to act When we know how to act we know how to live Our actions each day become our lives Drawn from the latest research from the fields of neuroscience behavioral and social psychology and evolutionary anthropology Intentional shows how to add meaning to our actions and lead a meaningful happier more fulfilling life on our terms
