Scholars in the Marketplace. The Dilemmas of Neo-Liberal Reform at Makerere University, 1989-2005 Mahmood Mamdani, 2007 Scholars in the Marketplace is a case study of market based reforms at Uganda's Makerere University With the World Bank heralding neoliberal reform at Makerere as the model for the transformation of higher education in Africa it has implications for the whole continent At the global level the Makerere case exemplifies the fate of public universities in a market oriented and capital friendly era The Makerere reform began in the 1990s and was based on the premise that higher education is more of a private than a public good Instead of pitting the public against the private and the state against the market this book shifts the terms of the debate toward a third alternative than explores different relations between the two The book distinguishes between privatisation and commercialisation two processes that drove the Makerere reform It argues that whereas privatisation the entry of privately sponsored students is compatible with a public university where priorities are publicly set commercialisation financial and administrative autonomy for each faculty to design a market responsive curriculum inevitably leads to a market determination of priorities in a public university The book warns against commercialisation of public universities as the subversion of public institutions for private purposes Community College Models Rosalind Latiner Raby, Edward J. Valeau, 2009-03-22 Increasingly students worldwide are seeking post secondary education to acquire new skill sets and credentials There is an explosion of community college models that provide educational opportunities and alternative pathways for students who do not fit the traditional higher educational profile This book focuses on economic models to help local and national economies develop strong workforce training humanitarian models to bring about social mobility and peace transformative models to help institutions expand and keep up with societal needs and newly created models that respond to the educational and training needs of a constantly changing world These models seek to capture the imagination of those who are committed to learning about what works in higher education and in particular the impact community college models are having on the changing nature of world social political and economic landscapes With contributors representing 30 countries this book presents an international perspective The Social Background of Makerere [i.e. Makerere] University Students and the Potential for Cost Sharing Muhammad K. Mayanja, 1998 Crisis and Promise in the Caribbean Winston Dookeran, 2016-03-09 The Caribbean is made up of a complex enigmatic region characterised by great disparities in size population geography history language religion race and politics This is a region in which harmony and discord work in tandem trying to link economic logic with political logic This book is a useful tool not only for those specialists and students of regionalism but for all those putting their hands to the task of nation building and those interested in the development processes of small states and economies At the same time this book is a comprehensive historical record especially highlighting hindrances to development in this region This study raises two important issues the political imperative of convergence and the need for appropriate correcting mechanisms that align
