

Chapter 14 Review

Review Questions

1. What made the American Civil War the first modern war?

The Civil War was the first conflict to make use of the industrial revolution's transportation, manufacturing, and other innovations, particularly its mechanized weapons. For the first time in history, military equipment and even whole armies were carried via railroad, and soldiers were armed with weapons that fired more quickly and accurately than ever before. More people died as a result of the employment of these devices than ever before in American history. Because it was the first conflict to be photographed, employ modern weapons, which resulted in a high death toll, and use modern armaments, the Civil conflict is considered to be the first modern war.

2. How was the North's victory over the South tied to the different ways the market revolution had developed in the North and South?

In contrast to the south, the north had far superior production infrastructure and a large train network for transportation. Manufacturing, railways, and communication for dense populations were among the northern industries that gained from the market revolution and assisted them in the war. When the Second Confiscation Act was passed, it started. It declares that treasonous or rebellious confederate states were required to release all their slaves. Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation, which abolished slavery in the confederate states, was what caused the whole transition from preserving the union to ending slavery.

3. Describe how President Lincoln's war aims evolved between 1861 and 1863, changing from simply preserving the Union to also ending slavery.

Lincoln asserted that the Union's protection was the primary goal of the Civil War at the outset due to Southern secession. At first, Lincoln's goal was to bring all the states back together under a single Union, but in order for that to happen, the issue of slavery had to be resolved because it was the primary driver of southern secession. Lincoln issued the South an ultimatum: either lay down their guns by the end of 1862, or he would declare abolition while the war and the battle for it continued. Lincoln issued the Emancipation Proclamation, which freed all slaves without offering recompense to the owners for their loss of property, after the Union crushed the South's armies for refusing to submit. Lincoln understood that by advocating for the abolishment of slavery, he would make it more challenging for European nations like England to support the Confederacy. This is due to the strong abolitionist attitude that existed in England.
