The Trials of Evidence-based Education Stephen Gorard, Beng Huat See, Nadia Siddiqui, 2017-06-26 The Trials of Evidence based Education explores the promise limitations and achievements of evidence based policy and practice as the attention of funders moves from a sole focus on attainment outcomes to political concern about character building and wider educational impacts Providing a detailed look at the pros cons and areas for improvement in evidence based policy and practice this book includes consideration of the following What is involved in a robust evaluation for education The issues in conducting trials and how to assess the trustworthiness of research findings New methods for the design conduct analysis and use of evidence from trials and examining their implications What policy makers head teachers and practitioners can learn from the evidence to inform practice In this well structured and thoughtful text the results and implications of over 20 studies conducted by the authors are combined with a much larger number of studies from their systematic reviews and the implications are spelled out for the research community policy makers schools wanting to run their own evaluations and for practitioners using evidence

Alternative Models of Addiction Hanna Pickard, Serge H. Ahmed, Bennett Foddy, 2015-12-07 For much of the 20th century theories of addictive behaviour and motivation were polarized between two models The first model viewed addiction as a moral failure for which addicts are rightly held responsible and judged accordingly The second model in contrast viewed addiction as a specific brain disease caused by neurobiological adaptations occurring in response to chronic drug or alcohol use and over which addicts have no choice or control As our capacity to observe neurobiological phenomena improved the second model became scientific orthodoxy increasingly dominating addiction research and informing public understandings of addiction More recently however a dissenting view has emerged within addiction research based partly on new scientific research and partly on progress in philosophical and psychological understandings of relevant mental phenomena This view does not revert to treating addiction as a moral failure but nonetheless holds that addictive behaviour is fundamentally motivated by choice and subject to at least a degree of voluntary control On this alternative model of addiction addictive behaviour is an instrumental means to ends that are desired by the individual although much controversy exists with respect to the rationality or irrationality of these ends the degree and nature of the voluntary control of addictive behaviour and motivation the explanation of the difference between addictive and non addictive behaviour and motivation and lastly the extent to which addictive behaviour and motivation is correctly characterised as pathological or diseased This research topic includes papers in the traditions of neuroscience psychology philosophy law and social science that explore alternative understandings of addiction

Pedagogies of Biomedical Science Donna Johnson,2024-05-31 This book confronts the continually evolving nature of biomedical science education by providing a robust account of learning pedagogies and best practice for scholars and researchers in the field Rather than considering subdisciplines of biomedical science education separately the volume takes a holistic approach and considers the complexities of teaching biomedical science as a whole providing a nuanced overview of how a particular practice fits in such a course overall as well as providing support for development within the reader s own subdiscipline Ultimately this holistic approach allows for expansive discussion of relevant pedagogical approaches that will directly inform innovations in the contemporary teaching of biomedical science education Novel in approach and underpinned by the latest in research innovations this book will appeal to scholars researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of medical education higher education and curriculum studies Policy makers involved with health education and promotion as well as educational research will also benefit from the volume

Adopting the Track of Phrase: An Emotional Symphony within Life Science Test Question Paper Grade 11 Test March 2014

In some sort of consumed by monitors and the ceaseless chatter of instantaneous communication, the melodic splendor and psychological symphony developed by the prepared word usually fade into the background, eclipsed by the persistent sound and disruptions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, situated within the pages of Life Science Test Question Paper Grade 11 Test March 2014 a wonderful literary value full of natural emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by an elegant musician of language, that charming masterpiece conducts viewers on an emotional trip, well unraveling the concealed melodies and profound affect resonating within each cautiously crafted phrase. Within the depths of this poignant analysis, we can explore the book's central harmonies, analyze their enthralling writing model, and submit ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers' souls.
