Handbook Of Climate Change And Agroecosystems: The Agricultural Model Intercomparison And Improvement Project (Agmip) Integrated Crop And Economic Assessments — Joint Publication With Asa, Cssa, And Sssa (In 2 Parts) Daniel Hillel, Cynthia Rosenzweig, 2015-02-13 Top agricultural scientists from around the world have taken up the challenge of sustainable agriculture with the specific focus on integrating agronomic climatological biophysical and socio economic perspectives and processes Every chapter of the Handbook contributes to addressing the growing food security challenges facing the world Foreword by Jeffrey Sachs Director of the Earth Institute at Columbia University Climate effects on agriculture are of increasing concern in both the scientific and policy communities because of the growing population and the greater uncertainty in the weather during growing seasons Changes in production are directly linked to variations in temperature and precipitation during the growing season and often to the offseason changes in weather because of soil water storage to replenish the soil profile This is not an isolated problem but one of worldwide interest because each country has concerns about their food security The Agricultural Model Intercomparison and Improvement Project AgMIP was developed to evaluate agricultural models and intercompare their ability to predict climate impacts In sub Saharan Africa and South Asia South America and East Asia AgMIP regional research teams RRTs are conducting integrated assessments to improve understanding of agricultural impacts of climate change including biophysical and economic impacts at national and regional scales Other AgMIP initiatives include global gridded modeling data and information technology IT tool development simulation of crop pests and diseases site based crop climate sensitivity studies and aggregation and scaling The Trend Management Toolkit A. Kjaer, 2014-10-07 In a fast moving world businesses need to keep up with data analysis and pattern spotting to identify future opportunities Anne Lise Kjaer presents a unique methodology for global trend spotting along with practical tools and approaches to help companies and organizations analyse market changes and determine the way ahead Autonomous Weapons Systems and International Norms Ingvid Bode, Hendrik Huelss, 2022-01-15 Autonomous weapons systems seem to be on the path to becoming accepted technologies of warfare The weaponization of artificial intelligence raises questions about whether human beings will maintain control of the use of force The notion of meaningful human control has become a focus of international debate on lethal autonomous weapons systems among members of the United Nations many states have diverging ideas about various complex forms of human machine interaction and the point at which human control stops being meaningful In Autonomous Weapons Systems and International Norms Ingvid Bode and Hendrik Huelss present an innovative study of how testing developing and using weapons systems with autonomous features shapes ethical and legal norms and how standards manifest and change in practice Autonomous weapons systems are not a matter for the distant future some autonomous features such as in air defence systems have been in use for decades They have already incrementally changed use of force norms by setting emerging standards for what

counts as meaningful human control As UN discussions drag on with minimal progress the trend towards autonomizing weapons systems continues A thought provoking and urgent book Autonomous Weapons Systems and International Norms provides an in depth analysis of the normative repercussions of weaponizing artificial intelligence Homeopathy and Autism Spectrum Disorder Mike Andrews,2014-06-21 This book presents the clinical experiences of homeopaths from around the world who treat children and adults with ASD It explores the real clinical outcomes that are being achieved by homeopaths in practice including reduced aggression improved physical health and enhanced overall wellbeing

Achieving sustainable cultivation of oil palm Volume 1 Prof. Alain Rival,2018-02-09 Experts from key organisations such as the RSPO identify key production trends and challenges Reviews latest developments in conventional and marker assisted breeding as well as transgenic approaches Assesses ways of assessing and optimising yields through techniques such as better nutrient and soil management Genetic Discrimination Gerard Quinn,Aisling de Paor,Peter Blanck,2014-11-20 As genetic technologies advance genetic testing may well offer the prospect of detecting the onset of future disabilities Some research also forwards that certain behavioural profiles may have a strong genetic basis such as the determination to succeed or the propensity for risk taking As this technology becomes more prevalent there is a danger that genetic information may be misused by third parties and that particular genetic profiles may be discriminated against by employers by providers of social goods and services such as insurance companies and even by educational facilities This book explores the different forms and potential uses of genetic testing Drawing together leading experts in disability law bioethics health law and a range of related fields it highlights the ethical and legal challenges arising as a result of emerging and rapidly advancing genetic science On examining transatlantic perspectives on the matter chapters in the book ask whether the US Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act GINA is proving to be an effective tool in addressing the issue of genetic discrimination and alleviating fears of discrimination The book also reviews what insights may be gained from GINA within employment and health insurance contexts and asks how the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities CRPD may impact similar debates within the European Union The book focuses particularly on the legislative and policy framework in the European Union with an emphasis on the gaps in protection and the scope for specific legislative action in this area This book will be of great interest to scholars and students of discrimination law bioethics and disability law and will be of considerable use to legal practitioners medical practitioners and policy makers in this area Risk Regulation in the Internal Market Maria Weimer,2019-03-13 This book offers a topical inquiry into the legal and political limits of EU regulation in the field of risk and new technologies surrounded by techno scientific complexity uncertainty and societal contestation It uses agricultural biotechnology as a paradigmatic example to illustrate the complex intertwinement between environmental public health economic and social concerns in risk regulation Weimer analyses the drawbacks of the EU approach to agricultural biotechnology showing that its reductionism i e the narrow understanding of GMO risks as well as the exclusion of broader societal concerns related to environmental and social sustainability has undermined both the legitimacy and effectiveness of EU regulation in this area. Resistance to this approach however has also triggered legal innovations prompting us to re think EU internal market law including the way in which it manages the tensions between unity and diversity and between social and economic concerns. This text offers fresh and original insights into how far the EU can go in harmonizing regulatory approaches to risk. At the same time it proposes new ways of re thinking EU risk regulation to make it more responsive to different perspectives on risk and technology. A unique feature of this book is that it contributes to various strains of scholarship including risk regulation, internal market law, public administration and studies of governance and regulation as well as connecting these themes to broader debates about the legitimacy of European integration and new ways of differentiated integration. As a result it assists in re imagining the EU internal market and its regulation as a site of diversity.

Routledge Handbook of Sustainability and Fashion Kate Fletcher, Mathilda Tham, 2014-08-21. The clothing industry employs 25 million people globally contributing to many livelihoods and the prosperity of communities to women's independence and the establishment of significant infrastructures in poorer countries. Yet the fashion industry is also a significant contributor to the degradation of natural systems with the associated environmental footprint of clothing high in comparison with other products. Routledge Handbook of Sustainability and Fashion recognizes the complexity of aligning fashion with sustainability. It explores fashion and sustainability at the levels of products, processes and paradigms and takes a truly multi disciplinary approach to critically question and suggest creative responses to issues of Fashion in a post growth society. Fashion diversity and equity, Fashion fluidity and balance across natural, social and economic systems. This handbook is a unique resource for a wide range of scholars and students in the social sciences, arts and humanities interested in sustainability and fashion.

English as a Lingua Franca in Wider Networking Paola Vettorel, 2014-08-27. In a constantly interconnected world communication takes place beyond territorial boundaries in networks where English works as a lingua franca. The volume explores how ELF is employed in internationally oriented personal blogs; findings show how bloggers deploy an array of resources to their expressive and interactional aims combining global and local communicative practices. Implications of findings in ELF and ELT terms are also discussed.

Chinese Politics as Fragmented Authoritarianism Kjeld Erik Brødsgaard, 2016-10-04. This book explores how far the concept of fragmented authoritarianism remains valid as the key concept for understanding how the Chinese political process works. It contrasts fragmented authoritarianism which places bureaucratic bargaining at the centre of policy making arguing that the goals and interests of the implementing agencies have to be incorporated into a policy if implementation is to be secured with other characterisations of China's political process. Individual chapters consider fragmented authoritarianism at work in a range of key policy areas including energy, issues, climate change and environmental management, financial reform and civil military relations. The book also explores policy making at the national, provincial, city and local levels, debates how far the model of fragmented authoritarianism is valid in its current form or whether modifications are needed and discusses whether the system of policy making and implementation is overcomplicated unwieldy and ineffective or whether it is constructive in enabling widespread consultation and scope for imagination flexibility and variation
