

Alleged Crimes During a Law Enforcement Exercise

Topic: Law | Words: 1135 | Pages: 4

Lawsuits brought against police officers are a well-established feature of the regulatory environment. While law enforcement officers typically have sweeping powers to conduct their work, the U.S. constitution, state constitutions, and other statutes impose limitations on what police officers can do during policing activities. This week's activity is based on a case study of alleged crimes during a law enforcement exercise. The essay will identify these crimes and highlight the one likely to end in a lawsuit.

In the scenario, Officer Jones is approached by a distressed woman. The woman informs Jones that she was robbed and beaten by an individual wearing a red shirt and white pants. This report turns out to be false since the alleged crime did not happen. In other words, the first crime is a false crime report. The victim lied about the identity of the person who assaulted her. Officer Jones committed the second crime when he opted to leave the injured woman before competent treatment and reinforcement came. Officer Jones left the victim alone in the dark and went to confront and question an individual who resembled the victim that the woman had described.

The third crime was the shooting of the suspect by Officer Jones on the shoulder, which resulted in bodily harm. Many law enforcement officers have found themselves in the same situation before and have taken similar actions. Officer Jones was unsure what the suspect intended to do when he moved his right hand towards his right pocket, which had an apparent bulge. In short, Officer Jones shot the suspect because he
