La Peur Matamore:

Allegory of Literary Representation as Hybrid in Corneilles Lillusion Comiq Juanita Villena-Alvarez, 1997
Monstrous hybrid works such as Corneille s L illusion comique Diderot s Le neveu de Rameau and Arrabal s La nuit est aussi un soleil resist genre based theory and defy categorization Hybrid appropriates a meaning valid for all three texts since the term contains the notion of a differentiation mutation and deviation as well as creation This attests to a certain similarity among the texts which is paradoxically founded on their individual differences for hybrid is only hybrid because of its distinction from other elements within a system Thus from these three works this study focuses on the deviation inherent in hybridization that constantly propels meaning from one point to another
