Second-Class Citizenship Eric Mutabazi, Nathanaël Wallenhorst, 2025-05-02 A number of features of the contemporary period are preventing people from exercising their citizenship: the acceleration and permanent change in the conditions shaping habitability of planet Earth; the digital and technological revolution; the rise of religious and political radicalisation; the explosion of social inequalities; the hegemony of the economic drive to maximise individual interests etc. For many individuals citizenship appears to be prevented at the first hurdle. What is more, though officially or legally it is not possible to speak of second class citizenship, so what can be done when the actors themselves use such terminology? There is something essential here which must be taken into account as a basis for thinking about the social inequalities and its injustices. The authors of this book propose the notion of second class citizenship as a way of thinking about the scale of contemporary social and political inequalities. In view of this observation the contributors outline a movement based on the conviction that education is the repository of the power to prepare for the future. How can we learn to build a shared world together and overcome the obstacles that prevent us from doing so? How can we learn new habits of relationships marked by responsibility and hospitality? The collective reflection in this book lends credence to the way in which players talk about their experience even experiencing differences in their ability to participate in the mechanisms of power. This book presents empirical studies and conceptual tools for thinking about the impact of economic factors on the ways in which citizens participate in the decisions of power. This book is particularly suited for educators as well as policy makers and researchers.

Colleges in Controversy John W. Padberg, 1969. Padberg has written the first full length study of these colleges from their revival in 1815 to their suppression in 1880. Drawing almost exclusively on archival material not previously utilized, Father Padberg places his study against the background of anti-clericalism, revolution, the Second Empire and the first decade of the Third Republic.

Raconte-moi ta vie Ginette Francequin, Francine Grosbras, 2023-09-05. En France l'orientation est un sujet d'études. Des chercheurs psychologues, sociologues, philosophes publient régulièrement leurs recherches. Une importante bibliographie recense leurs recherches et clare les paroles recueillies ici. Ces récits complètent l'ouvrage Histoires de vie et orientation publié en 2021 dans la collection Orientation tout ça L'Harmattan. Les témoignages ont été recueillis de 2017 à 2022 auprès de jeunes et d'adultes en région parisienne, en Lorraine et en Berry. Ces personnes racontent leurs cheminements, les rencontres, les événements qui ont jalonné leur vie. Elles disent leurs rêves et leurs réalisations. Elles citent ceux qui les ont aidés et guidés. Chacune est unique. On est surpris par l'optimisme et l'énergie qui se dégagent de ces vies ordinaires, jeunes ou vieilles. Elles nous donnent une leçon de bonheur de vivre. S'orienter, c'est choisir de continuer à avancer. En un mot, c'est vivre.
