La Passion De Karlo:

La Passion de Karlo, 2015 Ne te dis pas heureux avant ta dernière heure disaient les Grecs de l'Antiquité sans doute parce qu'ils avaient compris qu'il ne fallait pas se fier aux apparences aux masques que l'on porte en société. Il arrive parfois que les choses que nous aimons le plus et que nous croyons le mieux connaître jettent ce masque en nous révélant tragiquement que rien de ce qu'on croyait leur sujet n'avait le moindre rapport avec leur vérité. Ce qu'on appelle le frappe de la foudre. Telle est l'histoire de Karlo le bien-aimé.

Marie Jeanne Riccoboni's Epistolary Feminism Marijn S. Kaplan, 2020-04-19 Marie Jeanne Riccoboni's Epistolary Feminism Fact Fiction and Voice argues that Riccoboni is among the most significant women writers of the French Enlightenment due to her epistolary feminism. Locating its source in her first novel Lettres de Mistriss Fanni Butler 1757 between fact and fiction public and private Marijn S. Kaplan provides new evidence supporting both the novel's autobiography theory and de Maillebois hypothesis. Kaplan then traces how Riccoboni progressively develops a proto-feminist poetics of voice in her epistolary fiction empowering women to resist patriarchal efforts to silence and appropriate them which culminates in her final novel Lettres de Milord Rivers 1777. In nineteen relatively unknown letters included with translations written over three decades to her publisher Humblot several editors Diderot Laclos Philip Thicknesse etc Riccoboni is shown similarly to defend her oeuvre her reputation and her authority as a woman writer refusing to be manipulated and silenced by men.

War, Revolution and Remembrance in World Cinema Nancy J. Membrez, 2021-05-15 Two World Wars engulfed Europe Asia and the United States leaving indelible scars on the landscape and survivors. The trauma of civil wars in Spain declared and Latin America tacitly spanned decades yet contradictorily bind parties together even today. Civil wars still haunt Africa where in more recent years ethnic cleansing has led to wholesale genocide. Drawing on the emerging field of Memory Studies this book examines narrative and documentary films made far from Hollywood that address memory both traumatic and nostalgic surrounding these conflicts despite attempts by special interests to erase or manipulate history.

Materan Contradictions Anne Parmly Toxey, 2016-05-06 Shaped by encrusted layers of development spanning millennia the southern Italian city of Matera is the ultimate palimpsest. Known as the Sassi the majority of the ancient city is composed of thousands of structures carved into a limestone cliff and clinging to its walls. The resultant menagerie of forms possesses a surprising visual uniformity and an ineffable allure. Conversely in the 1950s Matera also served as a crucible for Italian postwar urban and architectural theory witnessed by the Neorealist modernist expansion of the city that developed in aversion to the Sassi. In another about-face the previously disparaged cave city has now been recast as a major tourist destination UNESCO World Heritage Monument and test subject for ideas and methods of preservation. Set within a sociopolitical and architectural history of Matera from 1950 to the present this book analyses the contemporary effects of preservation on the city and surrounding province. More broadly it examines the relationship between and interdependence of preservation and modernism within architectural thought To understand inconsistencies inherent to preservation in particular its effect of catalyzing change the study lays bare planners and developers use of preservation especially for economic goals and political will The work asserts that preservation is not a passive curatorial pursuit it is a cloaked manifestation of modernism and a powerful tool often used to control economies The study demonstrates that preservation also serves to influence societies through the shaping of memory and circulation of narratives
