Manual Da Burgman 125:

Beholding Violence in Medieval and Early Modern Europe Allie Terry-Fritsch, 2017-07-05 Interested in the ways in which medieval and early modern communities have acted as participants observers and interpreters of events and how they ascribed meaning to them the essays in this interdisciplinary collection explore the concept of beholding and the experiences of individual and collective beholders of violence during the period Addressing a range of medieval and early modern art forms including visual images material objects literary texts and performances the contributors examine the complexities of viewing and the production of knowledge within cultural political and theological contexts In considering new methods to examine the process of beholding violence and the beholder s perspective this volume addresses such questions as How does the process of beholding function in different aesthetic conditions Can we speak of such a thing as the period eye or an acculturated gaze of the viewer If so does this particularize the gaze or does it risk universalizing perception How do violence and pleasure intersect within the visual and literary arts How can an understanding of violence in cultural representation serve as means of knowing the past and as means of understanding and potentially altering the present Cambio 16 ,2006
