

Journal Entry of a Subordinate Group Member: Irish Americans

The Great Irish Famine

In October of 1845, a serious affliction occurred that was brought upon the Irish potato crops. The major disaster ruined a significant amount of Ireland's crops. A vast majority of families, including mine, depended on potato crops as our main source of food and income. The entire country began to suffer due to lack of resources for food, money, and supplies. My family attempted to ration our food and crop supply to a minimum, but with nine hungry and needy members, it didn't last too long. Our neighbors and the rest of the country were all in the same position. People began to die of starvation and fell ill with an outbreak of typhus due to weakened immune systems. It wasn't long before less people attended church services, social events, and schooling sessions because they were too ill. The troubling months brought illness into our family, with the death of two Aunts, four cousins, a set of grandparents, and two of my younger siblings. There were six other members of my family, not including myself, left with the heartache and pain of losing loved ones. The Irish Famine stimulated a great desire for our family, along with thousands of others, to escape Ireland. It was nearly three years later that my family decided to take a chance and head for America.

The United States of America, the Free Land

The journey to America consisted of my father William, mother Marianne, brothers David and Isaac, sisters Lois and Rebecca, and me; Carmen River Abernethy. The trip from Ireland to America through the ferocious Atlantic Ocean was a terrible struggle. The maximum capacity of our ship was ignored and supplies were limited. Families did not have enough water or food to survive the trip. A high number of people began dying and their bodies being tossed into the water. I remember seeing my sister Rebecca's frail body being hoisted over the ship and into the crashing waves. The loss of another sibling sent me into a depression. I feared another family member would die, or perhaps this time it would be me. The pain was unbearable but I knew I had to be strong for the rest of my family. I was of course, the oldest child, and had to remain positive.

The days seemed to pass by so slowly, but we finally arrived at a port near Massachusetts. I remember the flow of people stepping off our ship. People were crying with sadness, joy, and all sorts of other emotions. We were lucky enough to have not been quarantined and quickly found shelter. I then realized my family was now immigrants of the United States, and a feeling of relief swept over me. I thought maybe life would improve and we would no longer suffer. Maybe we would never have to worry about money, food, supplies, and our health ever again.

Immigration

Our family was recognized as immigrants and the Irish Immigrant Society attempted to persuade us to move further west. It was an unreasonable and unrealistic decision for my parents to make at that moment in time. The combined money my parents had saved and brought along during the trip was very little. My family was poverty-stricken and lived close to the port where we originally arrived. There was no possible way we could manage to fund a move that far.

My father began working two stable jobs building railroads and coalmining. The working
