The Modern Militia Movement

Modern Militia Movement:

The Militia Movement began in the 1980's and reached its peak in 1996. Several social, economic, and political factors contributed to the surge in militia participation in the 1990's. The primary motivator for the movement was the farm crisis of the 1980's, which caused the destruction of 3/4 of a million small to medium size family farms. Overall, 11 million Americans lost their jobs during this time period.

Academics contend that female and minority empowerment in the 1970s and 1980s caused a blow to white male's sense of empowerment. This, combined with a sense of defeat from the Vietnam War, increased levels of immigration, and unemployment, spawned a paramilitary culture. This caught on in the 1980's with injects such as Tom Clancy novels, Soldier of Fortune Magazine, and movies such as Rambo that glorified combat. This culture glorified white males and portrayed them as morally upright heroes who were mentally and physically tough.

It was during this timeframe that many individuals and organizations began to concoct conspiracy theories to explain their misfortunes. These theories varied but almost always involved a globalist dictatorship the "New World Order (NWO)", which conspired to exploit the working class citizens. United Nations troops were thought to already be operating in the United States in support of the NWO. Much of this rhetoric would become anti-Semitic claiming that the Jews controlled the monetary system and media, and in turn the "Zionist Occupied Government (ZOG)". The Militia of Montana (MOM) became a key organization in pushing rightwing rhetoric and informing individuals on how to form militia organizations.

A series of incidents in the early 1990's caused a surge in militia participation. The 1992 standoff between federal authorities and the Weaver family at Ruby Ridge, Idaho became a spark for the movement. On August 14, 1992, a 12 day standoff began that would result in the deaths of one federal agent and the wife and son of Randy Weaver. The following February, a 51-day siege would occur at the Branch Davidian compound in Waco, Texas, resulting in the death of 82 Davidians and four law enforcement agents. In November of 1993, the enacting of the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act of 1992 additionally fueled the movement. The movement reached its peak in 1996 with over 850 groups believed to be operating within the US.

Noteworthy militia activity from 1995 to 1999:

- 11/09/95: Oklahoma Constitutional Militia members are arrested as they plan to bomb the Southern Poverty Law Center (SPLC), gay bars, and abortion clinics.
- 12/18/95: A drum of ammonium nitrate and fuel oil is found behind the IRS building in Reno, Nevada, the device failed to explode. An anti-government tax protestor is later arrested for the incident.
- 01/18/96: A member of the Aryan Republican Army (ARA) is arrested in Ohio after a shoot out with the FBI. The ARA was also associated with 22 bank robberies between 1994 and 1996.

Freilich,2003 Annotation Quantitatively analyzing militia activity in the United States on a state by state level Freilich sociology John Jay College of Criminal Justice represents the major hypotheses of the birth of the movement in terms of separate variables seeking to explain differentiated levels of activity among states during the years 1994 and 1995 He finds no support for resource mobilization theory or economic interaction theory in terms of militia formation suggesting that the cultural thesis fits the data set better Annotation c 2003 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com Rage on the Right Lane Crothers,2003-03-12 The image of the militia as ordinary people coming together in times of crisis to help their fellow citizens is deeply embedded in American society and culture Recent claimants to the militia title have adopted this image even as they have promoted a radically anti government populist conservative political agenda Author Lane Crothers uses social movement theory to explore militia activity and ideology throughout the last decade illuminating why militia members are enraged by U S governmental policies and why their rage is unlikely to coalesce into a large political movement Gathering Storm Morris Dees,1997-04-03 On October 26 1994 Morris Dees wrote Attorney General Janet Reno to alert her to the danger posed by the growing number of radical militia groups He warned the Attorney General that the mixture of armed groups and those who hate is a recipe for disaster This was six months before the Oklahoma City bombing In Gathering Storm he tells for the first time why he decided to alert the Attorney General and why the danger of serious domestic terrorism still exists The militia movement we saw so much about immediately after the Oklahoma City bombing was not a spontaneous grassroots uprising of men angry at big government but as Dees shows a well organized effort by some of America s most dangerous far right extremists Its goal is to destabilize our democracy through domestic terrorism Few are more qualified to expose the militia network and its close cousin the Christian patriots than Dees Dees points out that the Oklahoma City tragedy was not an isolated event He connects together a series of violent acts and plans promoted by militia groups and small secret patriot cells since the early 1980s Many he says have ties to sources of political power in state houses and in Washington Dees names names gives places and details events that could prove embarrassing to some
