Advances in Integrated Disease Management (IDM) For Soil-Borne Plant Pathogens: Innovative Approaches and Underlying Action Mechanism at Molecular Level, 2nd edition Raja Asad Ali Khan , Musharaf Ahmad, 2025-09-24 Soil borne plant pathogens are responsible for many diseases in plants and have large genetic diversity affecting plants in warm temperate subtropical as well as tropical zones This has a significant impact on the economics of both developed and developing countries worldwide Unfortunately the protection of plants is mainly provided through the extensive use of synthetic chemicals These have demonstrated their protective efficiency but at the expense of having detrimental effects on both the health of humans and the environment Furthermore several soil borne plant diseases have no effective chemical treatment Because of the nature of hidden enemy soil borne genetic diversity high multiplication rate diverse infestation mode wide host range and complicated biology soil borne plant pathogens are usually difficult to manage and cannot be adequately controlled by single management practice Therefore it necessitates the implementation of an IDM strategy to minimize the pathogen impact and reduce disease losses Integrated disease management IDM in plant protection includes multiple strategies and kinds of control measures to reduce chemical pesticides. It includes the development of diverse ways of combining complementary approaches to manage pests by promoting the eco friendly use of natural molecules and biocontrol microbes alone or in combination to manage plant pathogens without having an impact on non target species. Because of their ability to inflict heavy damage to the economically important plants they infect, soil born plant pathogens have been the subject of intensive research and scientists are struggling to explore the IDM approach combining cultural practices, biological control measures and resistance of host plants to manage them. In this Research Topic we welcome original research, review, mini review and systematic review papers on the latest findings related to the integrated management of soil born plant pathogens and the underlying action mechanism. A better comprehension of new findings, action mechanisms at molecular level and implications of applying new management approaches can help to achieve better management of soil borne plant pathogens while maintaining satisfactory performance from both qualitative and quantitative perspectives. Topics may include but are by no means limited to: Enhancing host plant resistance to soil borne pathogens, Plant defense response, genetic regulation to soil borne pathogens, Bacteria, fungi and nematodes and application of management strategy, Bio control agents, their products and action mechanism against soil borne plant pathogens, New IDM component for soil borne plant pathogens, Molecular interaction between plants and bio control agents against soil borne plant pathogens, Soil amendment for the management of soil borne plant pathogens, Nanotechnological approaches for the management of soil borne plant pathogens.

Generating Actionable Climate Information in Support of Climate Adaptation and Mitigation Andreas Marc Fischer, Janette Bessembinder, Fai Fung, Hans Olav Hygen, Katharine

Jacobs, 2024-07-04. Climate change is under way in full extent adversely affecting more and more facets in nature, society and economy. The observations and the projections of these changes are increasingly important to consider in long term planning given the need to adapt to the multi sectoral climate impacts that can be anticipated. In most cases it is the information on the local scale in a user oriented way that is most relevant in this context. Over recent years many countries and organisations have set up climate services such as factsheets, brochures, web tools, data to enable downstream applications and to form a decision support basis for climate action planning e.g. KNMI14 in the Netherlands, UKCP18 in the UK, CH2018 in Switzerland, Climate Change in Australia, NCA4 in the US, Copernicus Climate Data Store C3S.

Perspectives in Project Management Raufdeen Rameezdeen, Anthony Wood, 2019-01-24. All the contributions to this volume are condensed versions of research projects undertaken by students in the final year of the online Master of Project Management degree delivered by the University of South Australia in conjunction with Open Universities Australia. Contributors to this book consist primarily of graduated Masters students supported by supervising academics and relevant industry specialists and practitioners. As a result the authors present current research interests across the breadth of Australia with many of the perspectives demonstrating relevance to practice globally. The research perspectives presented here focus on four key themes of project management theory and practice people and organisations methodologies and practice domains issues in application and continuous improvement and benchmarking Collectively this work will be of particular interest to project management academics and researchers post graduate students and the broader project management community Contemporary Project Management Timothy Kloppenborg, Vittal S.
