My Discovery of England Stephen Leacock,2015-03-06 The mystery had now reached its climax First the man had been undoubtedly murdered Secondly it was absolutely certain that no conceivable person had done it It was therefore time to call in the great detective He gave one searching glance at the corpse In a moment he whipped out a microscope Ha ha he said as he picked a hair off the lapel of the dead man s coat The mystery is now solved He held up the hair Listen he said we have only to find the man who lost this hair and the criminal is in our hands The inexorable chain of logic was complete The detective set himself to the search For four days and nights he moved unobserved through the streets of New York scanning closely every face he passed looking for a man who had lost a hair On the fifth day he discovered a man disguised as a tourist his head enveloped in a steamer cap that reached below his ears The man was about to go on board the Gloritania
