

The Happiest Moment of My Life

6 pages | 1285 words

Running on the road with wind shouting in my ears, I enjoyed the happiest moment of my life. Like people praying and participating in spiritual practices, I find my spirituality which eases and relieves me. It is running helping me retrieving energy, and the memory with it has become the happiest in my life. I found myself chasing after gold medals most of my vigorous youth. I started competing in athletic games since elementary schools. That time, I was competing in a race which offered a chance to represent our city in the National Athletic Meet. I was earnest to strive for the best honor and spent most of the time in running training. Everyday the coach wrote down my tasks on a piece of paper we called 'menu'. I trained in the drill as if having 3 meals a day. From morning to night, Monday to Sunday, January to December, all I could do was kept running and running. There was an illusion that I was in the dessert, keeping walking ahead and feeling the sand full of my mouth. Read more: Happiest Moments in Life Sometimes I lost in the dessert, wondering where I was and whether I could go through the hardship; sometimes I felt my body overused but the coach warned me constantly that sooner my opponents would chase on me if I slacked off. I could feel the responsibility for success rested squarely on my shoulders. Eventually, I won the gold medal and later won the fifth prize in 200-meter race at The National Athletic Meet! This is the happiest moment of my life because I've struggled to accomplish a dream and it did come true!

Example 2. The Happiest Moment In My Life

Last year I sat for my lower certificate of education examination. This was the first important hurdle that I had to cross in my academic career. Up to that time I had been automatically promoted from one standard or from to the next.

My parents are not very rich. They could not afford to send me to a private tutor in the town, nor could they coach me, not being highly educated them. I had not taken studies seriously during the primary school years. During the three years in the lower secondary school, I had worked fairly hard. However, I had not fared better than being admitted to the third stream out of the six in form Three. I had progressed steadily throughout the year but had still failed to pass in all subjects at the trial test held in the middle of July. Thus my chances of doing well at the lower certificate of education examination were rather slim.

After the examination was over my parents were often overheard talking disappointedly of my future. They had little confidence in my ability to pass the examination or to cope with my studies in the higher forms if I did manage to scrape through it. They accordingly decided to find me a job immediately, if possible, but definitely, after the results were out.

I had...
