

Pour comprendre le fonctionnement d'un objet et associer chaque fonction technique à une solution technique, le concepteur réalise l'analyse fonctionnelle systémique en s'assurant que celle-ci répond bien au Cahier des Charges Fonctionnel (CCF).

- Pour qu'un objet remplisse sa fonction d'usage, plusieurs fonctions techniques simples sont nécessaires. Ce sont des actions élémentaires et elles s'associent toujours avec un verbe à l'infinitif.
(Exemples)

Alimenter en énergie électrique

Contrôler le comportement du pilote

Booster une pièce

- Une solution technique est la réponse apportée par le concepteur, qui associe une fonction technique.

- Pour déterminer les solutions techniques et les fonctions techniques, l'analyse fonctionnelle systémique peut être présentée sous forme de carte mentale.

Dans la carte mentale chaque fonction technique peut être associée à une ou plusieurs solutions techniques. Chaque verbe (fonction) du cahier des charges fonctionnel.

L'analyse fonctionnelle systémique d'un objet permet de comprendre son fonctionnement et montrer l'association de chaque solution technique à une fonction technique. Chaque solution choisie par le concepteur est un composant de l'objet qui répond aux contraintes du cahier des charges. Cette analyse peut être présentée avec une carte mentale.
