failure and exhausted at the time of the author's death in 1891 but during the 20th century his reputation as a great American novelist was established. William Faulkner confessed that he would have liked to write it himself and DH Lawrence called it one of the strangest and most wonderful books in the world and the greatest book of the sea ever written. Call me Ishmael is among the most famous opening phrases of world literature. The result of a year and a half of writing the book draws on Melville's experience at sea, his reading of whale literature and literary inspirations such as Shakespeare and the Bible. The white whale is modeled on the famous albino whale Mocha Dick whose end is based on the sinking of the whale whale Essex. Detailed and realistic descriptions of whaling and whale oil extraction as well as life on board a culturally diverse crew are mixed with the exploration of social and class status, good and evil and the existence of God. In addition to narrative prose, Melville uses literary styles and devices ranging from songs, poetry and catalogs to Shakespeare's scenic directions, soliloquies and sides. Dedicated to Nathaniel Hawthorne as a sign of my admiration for his genius, the work was first published under the title The Whale in London in October 1851 and under its definitive title in New York in November. Hundreds of differences, mostly light and some important, are observed between the two editions. The London publisher has censored or changed sensitive passages and Melville has made revisions, including the last minute change of title for the New York edition. The whale, however, appears in both editions as Moby Dick without a hyphen. HERMAN MELVILLE

Herman Melville (August 1, 1819 – September 28, 1891) was an American novelist, a news writer and a poet of the American Renaissance period. His best known works include Typee (1846), a romantic account of his experiences in Polynesian life and his whaling novel Moby Dick (1851). His work has been almost forgotten in his last 30 years. His writing is based on his experience at sea as a common sailor, the exploration of literature and philosophy and the engagement in the contradictions of American society in a period of rapid change. He developed a complex Baroque style; the vocabulary is rich and original, a strong sense of rhythm permeates the elaborate sentences, the imagery is often mystical or ironic and the abundance of allusions extends to biblical writing, to myth, to philosophy, to literature and the visual arts. Melville was born in New York, the third child of a dry French merchant. His formal education ended abruptly after his father's death in 1832, leaving the family in a difficult financial situation. He briefly became a teacher before sinking in 1839 as a seaman on a merchant ship. In 1840 he signed aboard the whaler Acushnet on his first whaling trip but jumped ship in the Marquesas Islands. He returned to Boston in 1844 after other adventures. His first book was Typee (1846), a highly romanticized account of his life among the Polynesians. He became such a bestseller that he wrote the Omoo Suite (1847). These successes encouraged her to marry Elizabeth Shaw, daughter of a prominent Boston family, but success was hard to maintain. His first novel that was not based on his own experiences was Tuesday (1849), a tale of the sea that develops into a philosophical allegory but it was not well received.
