Job Order Costing and Analysis

QUESTIONS

1. Factory overhead is not identified with specific units (jobs) or batches (job lots). Therefore, to assign costs, estimates of the relation between factory overhead cost and job or job lot are necessary. Since managers need timely cost information, we need to estimate a predetermined overhead rate to use in applying estimated overhead to jobs. This estimated amount also helps job order companies determine prices on a timely basis.
2. Several other factors (allocation bases) are possible and reasonable. These common factors often include direct materials or machine hours.
3. The job order cost sheet captures information on cost and quantity of direct material and direct labor, and on the amount of factory overhead applied to the respective job or job lot. Management and employees use this information to monitor costs during production and to estimate total cost of production.
4. Each job is assigned a subsidiary ledger account. This account serves as the "posting account" (accumulates all increases and decreases) during production for direct material, direct labor, and applied factory overhead. The collection of job cost sheets for all of the jobs in process make up a subsidiary ledger controlled by the Work in Process Inventory account in the general ledger.

When a job is finished, its job cost sheet is completed and moved from the file of jobs in process to the file of finished jobs awaiting delivery to customers. This latter file web two pairs of magnetic coils are usually placed near the entrance far end of the waveguide to bend the direction of electron beam radially and transversely these are called directional bending magnetic coils frontiers figure eight coils for magnetic stimulation from - Feb 26 2022 web the coil is bent at an acute angle at the center between the left and right wings the bending forces the coil to conform to the shape of the human head moreover it results in an increased depth of the induced electric fields in the brain

web an electromagnetic coil is an electrical conductor such as a wire in the shape of a coil spiral or helix electromagnetic coils are used in electrical engineering in applications where electric currents interact with magnetic fields in devices such as electric motors generators inductors electromagnets transformers and web where  $h$  is the strength of the magnetic field in ampere turns metre at  $m$   $n$  is the number of turns of the coil  $i$  is the current flowing through the coil in amps  $l$  is the length of the coil in metres  $m$  then to summarise the strength or intensity of a coils magnetic field depends on the following factors the number of turns of wire within the coil superconducting magnet wikipedia - Mar 30 2022

web a superconducting magnet is an electromagnet made from coils of superconducting wire they must be cooled to cryogenic temperatures during operation in its superconducting state the wire has no electrical resistance and therefore can conduct much larger electric currents than ordinary wire creating intense magnetic fields
