Kzn Grade R Educators Increment:

Where to for Provincial Education? Russell Wildeman, Rose Hemmer-Vitti, 2010 South Africa's provincial education departments have been reduced to provincial administrations for reasons that include the powerful role national government plays in delivering education services. This book looks in detail at education spending and asks: Can we afford to maintain administrations that cannot possibly change the course of poor quality education and engineer a brighter future for our poor and deprived learners? The authors believe this question and the future role of provincial education departments need to be discussed openly and publicly without delay.

Educator Supply and Demand in the South African Public Education System Education Labour Relations Council (South Africa), 2005. This report is an integration of the seven reports which emerged from the research and pulls together the findings arising from it. What emerges is that the resignation, death and ageing of the present educator force is likely to have a significant effect on replacement demand for educators over the next four years.

The Youth Dividend Jan H. Hofmeyr, 2012. Human Resources Development Review 2008 Andre Kraak, Karen Press, 2008. Through 25 chapters authored by some of the leading researchers in the field, the Human Resources Development Review 2008 provides an extensive overview of the contextual factors driving human resources development in South Africa. A key theme throughout the volume is the importance of a multi-faceted skills development strategy operating at three levels. The first entails high skills policies aimed at expanding export-oriented manufacturing production and services provision, particularly in new globally competitive niche areas. The second relates to the economy's ongoing need for intermediate skills, as is evident in the shortage of skilled artisans and technologists. Finally, the provision of basic entry-level skills is important in view of the urgent need for large-scale job creation schemes triggered by public sector initiatives to ameliorate high levels of unemployment and despondency, especially amongst the youth.

The Imperative of Development Geoffrey Gertz, Homi Kharas, Johannes F. Linn, 2017-09-12. The achievements and legacy of the Wolfensohn Center for Development at Brookings. The Imperative of Development highlights the research and policy analysis produced by the Wolfensohn Center for Development at Brookings. The Center, which operated from 2006 to 2011, was the first home at Brookings for research on international development. It sought to help identify effective solutions to key development challenges in order to create a more prosperous and stable world. Founded by James and Elaine Wolfensohn, the Center's mission was to create knowledge that leads to action with real, scaled-up and lasting development impact. This volume reviews the Center's achievements and lasting legacy, combining highlights of its most important research with new essays that examine the context and impact of that research. Six primary research streams of the Wolfensohn Center's work are highlighted in The Imperative of Development: the shifting structure of the world economy in the twenty-first century; the challenge of scaling up the impact of development interventions; the effectiveness of development assistance; how to promote economic and social inclusion for Middle Eastern youth; the case for investing in early child development; and the need for global governance reform In each chapter a scholar associated with the particular research topic provides an overview of the issue and its broader context then describes the Center's work on the topic and the subsequent influence and impact of these efforts The Imperative of Development chronicles the growth and expansion of the first center for development research in Brookings's 100 year history and traces how the seeds of this initiative continue to bear fruit
