Lithium-Ion Cells Yury Koshtyal, Alexander Rumyantsev, 2024-12-24 A large quantity of articles and books have been published on the designated topics However most of the literary sources describe the results of scientific articles on the synthesis and study of perspective materials reveal circuit and design solutions for constructing control systems and manufacturing batteries and are educational materials At the same time a small part of the published sources includes the following descriptions of materials produced industrially and used in the LIC manufacturing process demonstrations of the industrially produced LIC energy and power parameters analysis of the characteristics of manufactured miniature lithium ion cells solid state LICs lithium metal cells and all solid state cells as well as others Considering the popularity of the discussed topics one can hope to find detailed information on the Internet Indeed modern search engines make it possible to locate a sufficiently large number of relevant documents However while conducting such research we encountered the following challenges the data are somewhat fragmented and their systematization and structuring are required search results do not always meet search queries For instance data that were relevant to the topic were found but they did not match the query as accumulated data grow the search time for new information extends the choice of search engine and location different countries affects search results the data are not indexed in search engines although the correct keywords and website were requested the information disappears due to website updates and the found data require additional processing For example many presentations show changes in the shape of the discharge curves depending on the discharge current strength In addition however Ragone plots are necessary for a correct comparison and therefore the mathematical processing of presented results is required Thus this book was written to systematize and structure information on industrially produced materials for LIC manufacturing and industrially produced and promising LICs and lithium metal rechargeable cells for various applications Dietary Pattern and Health

realities of inequality racism colonialism and environmental destruction in South Africa calling for environmental research and governance to transition to an ecopolitical approach that could address South Africa s history of racial oppression and environmental exploitation Green analyzes conflicting accounts of nature in environmental sciences that claim neutrality amid ongoing struggles for land restitution and environmental justice Offering in depth studies of environmental conflict in contemporary South Africa Green addresses the history of contested water access in Cape Town struggles over natural gas fracking in the Karoo debates about decolonizing science the potential for a politics of soil in the call for land restitution urban baboon management and the consequences of sending sewage to urban oceans Analysis of Creationism in the United States from Scopes (1925) to Kitzmiller (2005) and its Effect on the Nation's Science Education System Elizabeth Watts,2018 Creationism is based on a fundamental belief in the inerrancy of the bible and negatively affects science education because creationist proponents insist on the inclusion of supernatural explanations for the appearance of species in particular the origin of humans This detrimental effect on education is particularly relevant in the United States where almost 70% of the population rejects the idea of naturalistic evolution and the majority of American students struggle to meet the college readiness benchmarks in science and math This dissertation provides a comprehensive look at the issue from historical judicial and educational perspectives Twenty four legal cases in the United States regarding anti evolutionary strategies were analyzed in detail Strategic trends were identified ranging from the statewide banning of evolution in public schools to the required teaching of Creation Science The exact effect of creationist political activity was discerned through the analysis of state science standards and textbook adoption processes which illustrated the creationists ability to lobby for a diminished coverage of evolution in science standards and textbooks It was found that despite attempts made by scientific and educational agencies to provide guidelines such as the Next Generation Science Standards the majority of American state science standards continue to be sub par and one of the major flaws of these standards is the overall attempt to weaken the coverage of evolution throughout the standards A similar loss of quality occurs in textbooks since publishers engage in self censorship in order to avoid controversial topics such as evolution in order to prevent their books from being rejected An examination of the free choice learning materials revealed that creationist proponents are very active and successful in producing books films and museums for the sole purpose of promoting creationism Moreover a brief look at the creationist movement in Germany provided a powerful comparison to the United States and elucidated the key components necessary for a creationist movement to exist and flourish namely the presence of fundamentalist willing to fight to get anti evolutionary materials introduced into science classrooms This study provides new insights into the creationist phenomenon present not only in the United States but also increasingly present in European countries such as Germany Understanding the detrimental link between creationism and science education will help the science community realize that this topic needs to be continually readdressed and that it is imperative that these creationist trends are not dismissed as inconsequential

Policy-Making in the GCC Neil Quilliam, Mark C. Thompson, 2017-09-11 The GCC is a major player in the post 2011 reordering of the Middle East Despite the rise in prominence of individual Gulf states especially Kuwait Qatar Saudi Arabia and the United Arab Emirates and the growth of the GCC as a collective entity surprisingly little attention has been paid to the actual mechanics of policy making in the region This book analyses the vital role that institutions are coming to play in shaping policy in the Gulf Arab states The research coincides with two key developments that have given institutions new importance in the policy process the emergence of a new generation of leaders in the Gulf and the era of low oil prices Both developments along with dramatic demographic change have compelled state and citizens to re evaluate the nature of the social contract that binds them together Contributors assess the changing relationship between state and citizen and evaluate the role that formal and informal institutions play in mediating such change and informing policy The book shows how academic social and economic institutions are responding to the increasingly complex process of decision making where citizens demand better services and further empowerment and states are obliged to seek wider counsel although wanting to retain ultimate authority With contributions from both academics and practitioners this book will be highly relevant for researchers and policymakers alike
