Political Pressures on Educational and Social Research Karen Trimmer, 2016-05-12

Political Pressures on Educational and Social Research draws upon a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches to consider the problems that can arise when research findings diverge from political directions for policy Chapters explore the impacts this can have on the researchers as well as the influence it has on the research including the methodology and the publication of results The book offers innovative ways of seeing how these connect overlap and interact revealing particular issues of concern for researchers and evaluators in the context of research internationally Key topics include the power and positioning of research evidence based policy development ethics and the importance of research that seeks to explore and discover knowledge The book is divided into two sections The first presents chapters from international academics which provide a theoretical underpinning and discussion of power policy ethics and their influence on research resourcing autonomy purpose and methodology The second section explores specific case studies and instances from the authors own experiences in the field This book offers an interesting and enlightening insight into the sometimes political nature of research and will appeal to researchers evaluators and postgraduate students in the fields of education and the social sciences It will be of particular interest to those studying research methods

Trust-Based Observations Craig Randall, 2020-07-30

The results are in observations are not improving teaching and learning Pertinently the Gates Foundation s recently completed effort to improve student outcomes through enhancing the teacher evaluation process failed to achieve substantive improvement The way observations are currently designed serve as an obstacle to teacher risk taking Teachers fear negative evaluations when their pedagogy is rated and they lack faith in being supported by supervisors because a trusting relationship between them and their observer has not been built Trust Based Observations Maximizing Teaching and Learning Growth is a schema changing evaluation model that understands people perform at their best when they feel safe and supported It begins with twelve 20 minute observations per week followed by collegial conversations driven by reflective questions sharing observed teaching strengths and the building of safe and trusting relationships with teachers Add the elimination of rating pedagogical skills and replace it with rating mindset and teachers trust When teachers fully embrace risk taking and innovation it leads to remarkable teaching transformations and improved student learning
