Important reminders:

- ❖ Submit your report to www.turnitin.com and a paper copy to your teacher on or before the due date
- ❖ Write only in third person. "Third person" refers to everybody else (e.g., he, him, she, her, it, they, them), including all other nouns (e.g., Julie, termite, fruit flies).

Your lab report should include:

- (2 points) Title of lab (the title should include the variables: MV and RV);
- (2 points) Your name
- (1 point) Date

The seven sections of a Lab Report:

1. (10 points) Introduction:

- a. In a paragraph, introduce and describe the problem. Include background or research information that is relevant to the problem.
- b. Also include and highlight your initial hypothesis in the if/then format (see hypothesis handout from class for help). Make this all flow together into a paragraph.

2. (5 points) Materials:

- a. In a BULLETED list, list all materials needed for the lab. Do not write a paragraph.

3. (10 points) Methods (Procedure):

- a. Create a numbered list of specific steps of the experiment in your own words. Pictures or sketches of the lab set-up may also be included in this section.
- b. Also list and highlight the variables (independent, dependent and controlled) and the control set-up (group).

4. (30 points) Results:

- a. Include one or more data tables that include all data gathered during the experiment, quantitative and qualitative. Include a title (title should include MV and RV).
- b. Include a graph on graph paper (when data can be graphed). Include a title (don't forget MV and RV), label the x and y axis and use a ruler! (You may also use Excel!)
- c. Include sketches or pictures from observations. (on paper copy only)
- d. Answer pre-lab or post-lab questions in complete sentences in this section. They are NOT to be answered in the conclusion.

5. (10 points) Data Analysis

- a. Compare and discuss experimental group to control group data. This includes all data, both qualitative and quantitative, such as observations, information in data tables, and graphs (slope of the line, appearance of the bars, etc).
- b. Also, compare and discuss group and class data if class data was collected.
