Current Approaches to Metaphor Analysis in Discourse Ignasi Navarro i Ferrando, 2019-09-02 This volume takes up the challenge of surveying the present state of a variety of approaches to the identification analysis and interpretation of metaphor across communication channels situational contexts genres and social spheres It reflects three foremost trends of present metaphor research namely the communicative approach the cognitive modelling approach and the multimodality approach These trends are considered as areas of research emerging on the ground of the Conceptual Metaphor Theory initiated by Lakoff The book intends to show their concomitances as well as mark their diversifying paths The aim is to bring about and make apparent the many connections among assumingly different trends stemming from CMT Whereas discrepancies between communicative and conceptual perspectives might seem irredeemable the book emphasizes and claims that the background framework of CMT provides a solid foundation for collaboration and mutual influence Consequently the analysis of metaphor usage in context may provide insights for cognitive modelling proposals The analysis of cognitive configuration of conceptual domains may in turn illuminate our understanding of communicative decisions in discourse The integration of multimodal metaphor analysis puts forward the idea that diverse modal manifestations of metaphor reveal the symbiosis between communicative and cognitive stances The various subject areas and methodologies illuminate the scene of current research in the field The poignant contributions open far reaching avenues into the realm of human thought and discourse

Amazon Stephen G. Bunker,1985 Underdeveloping the Amazon shows how different extractive economies have periodically enriched various dominant classes but progressively impoverished the entire region by disrupting both the Amazon Basin s ecology and human communities Contending that traditional models of development based almost exclusively on the European and American experience of industrial production cannot apply to a regional economy founded on extraction Stephen G Bunker proposes a new model based on the use and depletion of energy values in natural resources as the key to understanding the disruptive forces at work in the Basin Moundbuilders of the Amazon Anna Curtenius Roosevelt,1991 Moundbuilders of the Amazon shows that sophisticated archaeological bioarchaeological and geophysical techniques of remote sensing are fully applicable to tropical sites Additionally the comprehensive use of such techniques by all archaeologists doing fieldwork anywhere could revolutionize archaeology allowing archaeologists to look inside sites rather than simply excavate them Using a variety of remote sensing techniques Roosevelt documents the existence of a major moundbuilding culture possessing monumental architecture and a rich artistic tradition on the lowland tropical floodplain of Marajo Island at the mouth of the Amazon River in Brazil from about 400 A D to about 1 300 A D Marajo Island at the mouth of the Amazon River is about the same size as Switzerland or Belgium A well developed civilization existed there from about 400 A D to 1 300 A D comparable in many ways to the Inca civilization to the west or to the Aztec and Maya cultures to the north or in some interesting ways to the Pharonic cultures which developed at the mouth of the Nile Because this civilization had no stone at its disposal it expressed its monumental architecture in packed dirt which washed back into the alluvial floodplain long ago effectively preventing archaeological discovery until the recent development of sophisticated techniques of remote sensing and reconstruction Key Features Reports on the most extensive stratigraphic excavations ever of an ancient Amazonian civilization adapted to a floodplain environment Introduces the first use of geophysics for archaeology in non specialized language Illustrates for the first time the elaborate art of a complex society that was indigenous to the tropical lowlands Describes monumental sites rich polychrome pottery and the first extensive biological remains ever
