Judkins, 1995 It is conservatively estimated that there are 35 million unemployed people living in the mature industrialized countries The authors of this well researched and provocative book argue that without a radical rethink the UK and Western Europe are headed for disaster They examine the impact of today's technological industrial revolution on employment and society looking at changes in the number of people working who these workers are and how and where they work The decline in the number of full time jobs is presented as a long term general trend and the authors predict the consequences for a society without job security and limited prospects for employment possibilities By means of conclusion the authors offer the statistics and policy suggestions which could prescribe an uncompromising and challenging longer term remedy for chronic unemployment and non employment BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved
