Reclaiming Time Isaiah Matthew Wooden, 2025-03-15 Showing how twenty first century Black theater and media arts challenge dominant conceptualizations of time Reclaiming Time Race Temporality and Black Expressive Culture examines works by contemporary Black artists in multiple media drama film performance art and photography that trouble dominant conceptualizations and normative configurations of time in relation to race in the twenty first century Isaiah Matthew Wooden explores the ways in which an intentional and sometimes ludic engagement with time and temporality has enabled these artists to probe urgent questions and themes concerning the conditions of contemporary Black life Wooden surveys a diverse array of performance based and visual texts to explore the rich practices of contemporary Black expressive culture dramatic works by playwrights Eisa Davis Tarell Alvin McCraney and Robert O Hara performance art and photography by visual artists Jefferson Pinder and LaToya Ruby Frazier and feature length cinema by director producer Tanya Hamilton These works expose normative time as specious and evidence the transformative potential in honing practices of Black temporal experimentation and intervention By putting this cross disciplinary set of texts in conversation with each other Wooden sheds new light on the shrewd ways that they each reflect an investment in unbinding time from the exigencies of normativity and teleology as well as on their shared commitments to reclaiming time to reimagine and represent Blackness in all its multiplicities

Depth Effects Brooke Belisle, 2024-01-09 In this bold rewriting of visual culture Brooke Belisle uses dimensionality to rethink the history and theory of media aesthetics With Depth Effects she traces A I enabled techniques of computational imaging back to spatial strategies of early photography analyzing everyday smartphone apps by way of almost forgotten media forms Drawing on the work of Maurice Merleau Ponty Belisle explores depth both as a problem of visual representation how can flat images depict a voluminous world and as a philosophical paradox how do things cohere beyond the limits of our view She explains how today s depth effects continue colonialist ambitions toward totalizing ways of seeing But she also shows how artists stage dimensionality to articulate what remains invisible and irreducible

Scholars and Their Kin Stéphane Gerson, 2025-02-19 Spotlights historians who have embraced the methodological practical and ethical challenges of writing about the most slippery of subjects their own families Historians have often been discouraged from writing about their relatives subjects who are deemed too close for objective analysis But new work by scholars interested in their own families raises fascinating questions about subjectivity and how historians might put it to use It also invites historians to abandon traditional aspects of academic writing and draw instead on literary forms more equipped to highlight the relationships between scholar and material feeling and reason Scholars and Their Kin embraces diverse approaches to such writing bringing into the open the personal professional and historiographic complexities that ensue when scholars write intimate yet self aware histories about their families The first book devoted to this genre which editor Stéphane Gerson terms personal family history this anthology features ten essays and an afterword by scholars working in this vein The contributors varied in their disciplines themes and nationalities reflect on their motivations and methodological choices the politics of family history and the institutional constraints they have sometimes faced Making full use of the creative possibilities of voice and form they expand the literary ambitions of personal family history provide readers with narrative models and address questions of shame responsibility love gendered and racial violence family archives as well as the tall tales myths misrepresentations memories and omissions that suffuse family lives Scholars and Their Kin will interest historians scholars in other disciplines and readers interested in family histories that open broader worlds

LaToya Ruby Frazier Christophe Gallois, 2019 LaToya Ruby Frazier's intimate photographs of working class families in the former steelworking and coalmining hubs of Pittsburgh Pennsylvania and Borinage Belgium Frazier's born 1982 portraits reflect both a political engagement with and a personal investment in her subject matter This book presents her seminal series The Notion of a Family in which she documents three generations of her own family in the suburbs of Pittsburgh alongside two more recent projects On the Making of Steel Genesis Sandra Gould Ford 2017 made in close collaboration with artist and steelworker Sandra Gould Ford and Et des terrils un arbre s l vera 2016 17 made with the people of Mons in Borinage Belgium once home to a coalmine Following a long tradition of photography as a tool for political activism Frazier's intimate photographs provide insight into the daily lives of those most affected by the industries decline

The Shadows of the Steel Mill Stephanie E. Goodale, 2017 The Selfie, Temporality, and Contemporary Photography Claire Raymond, 2021-05-09 This book is a theoretical examination of the relationship between the face identity photography and temporality focusing on the temporal episteme of selfie practice Claire Raymond investigates how the selfie's involvement with time and self emerges from capitalist ideologies of identity and time The book leverages theories from Katharina Pistor Jacques Lacan Ragnvaldur Ingthorsson and Hans Belting to explore the ways in which the selfie imposes a dominant ideology on subjectivity by manipulating the affect of time The selfie is understood in contrast to the self portrait Artists discussed include James Tylor Shelley Niro Ellen Carey Graham MacIndoe and LaToya Ruby Frazier The book will be of interest to scholars working in visual culture history of photography and critical theory It will also appeal to scholars of philosophy and in particular of the intersection of aesthetic theory and theories of ontology epistemology and temporality Subjective Objective Andrés Mario Zervigón, 2017 Generously illustrated with photographs from early twentieth century reformers to contemporary artists this collection of essays re-examines the genre of social documentary photography through the shifting lens of photographic objectivity modes of dissemination and the passions animating
