The Law Commission Thirty-first Annual Report 1996 Great Britain. Law Commission,1997      The Crime of Aggression under the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court Carrie McDougall,2013-04-18 This guide to the crime of aggression provisions under the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court ICC offers an exhaustive and sophisticated legal analysis of the crime s definition as well as the jurisdictional provisions governing the ICC s exercise of jurisdiction over the crime A range of practical issues likely to arise in prosecutions of the crime of aggression before the ICC are canvassed as is the issue of the domestic prosecution of the crime It also offers an insight into the geopolitical significance of the crime of aggression and the activation of the ICC s ability to exercise its jurisdiction over the crime The author s intimate involvement in the crime s negotiations combined with extensive scholarly reflection on the criminalisation of inter State uses of armed force makes this highly relevant to all academics and practitioners interested in the crime of aggression      Report of the Law Commission for the Year Ended ... New Zealand. Law Commission,2004      War Torn Environment: Interpreting the Legal Threshold Karen Hulme,2004-08-01 In the recent past the horrors of war have been demonstrated all too vividly Who would have believed that after Nuremberg there would be any further need for war crimes tribunals or for the creation of an international criminal court But whilst people in conflict countries suffer the mental and physical scars from military bombardment they also suffer the silent legacy of environmental pollution The world functions as one large ecosystem the contamination of one element inevitably feeding into another Pollution in peacetime has been greatly reduced but what is the wartime cost to the environment Wartime weaponry and tactics are strictly controlled by the principles of humanitarian law but international law can be a slow creature Are our militaries using weapons today that violate the current laws of armed conflict Or need new controls be drafted to deal with the environmental and inevitably human consequences of modern warfare The book seeks to analyse the issues surrounding the protection of the environment in times of armed conflict and to pose questions as to its adequacy and efficacy But the focus is not simply upon the interpretation of the legal provisions in isolation instead the analysis establishes a benchmark standard of environmental harm against which the adequacy and efficacy of the legal provisions can be measured At the centre of the analysis are a number of case studies tackling the most modern weapons and tactics including the legality of depleted uranium weapons and cluster bombs the validity of striking chemical weapons facilities and oil installations and the responsibility for explosive and non explosive war debris      Law Commission; Lord Chancellors Dept: Law Commission Thirty-first Annual Report 1995 (Law Com 244) ,1996      Victim Organisations and the Politics of Reparation Heidy Rombouts,2004 Reparation for victims of gross and systematic human rights violations is a contemporary issue gaining increased attention in both national and international politics Post conflict societies have to face the legacies of the dark past and dealing with a large group of victims is one of them Transitional justice mechanisms trying to cope with the past should not overlook the issue of reparation This research demonstrates how reparation for victims of gross and systematic human rights violations differs from reparation for isolated violations The Rwandan case study unveils the role of victim organisations in and the competition and politicisation of the reparation debate Although reparation for victims is a crucial element in transitional justice it becomes clear that the way in which the reparation debate unfolds does not necessarily contribute to the peaceful future of a post conflict society This study argues that remedying the process and debate of the search for reparation will lead to an improved and more constructive reparation policy Heidy Rombouts is a legal and social scientist 1997 Master of Laws 1999 Master in Social and Political Sciences Catholic University of Leuven In 2004 she obtained a PhD degree in Social and Political Sciences at the University of Antwerp for her research on victim organisations and the politics of reparation For several years she has been conducting research on transitional justice human rights and post conflict situations including extensive field research in South Africa and Rwanda Annual Report 1996 New Zealand. Bohlender,Nicola Wake,Emma Smith,2016-10-14 This volume presents a leading contribution to the substantive arena relating to consent in the criminal law In broad terms the ambit of legally valid consent in extant law is contestable and opaque and reveals significant problems in adoption of consistent approaches to doctrinal and theoretical underpinnings of consent This book seeks to provide a logical template to focus the debate The overall concept addresses three specific elements within this arena embracing an overarching synergy between them This edifice engages in an examination of UK provisions with specialist contributions on Irish and Scottish law and in contrasting these provisions against alternative domestic jurisdictions as well as comparative contributions addressing a particularised research grid for consent The comparative chapters provide a wider background of how other legal systems treat a variety of specialised issues relating to consent in the context of the criminal law The debate in relation to consent principles continues for academics practitioners and within the criminal justice system Having expert descriptions of the wider issues surrounding the particular discussion and of other legal systems approaches serves to stimulate and inform that debate This collection will be a major source of reference for future discussion "Code of Massachusetts regulations, 1996" ,1996 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf
