Ecocritical Approaches to Italian Culture and Literature Pasquale Verdicchio, 2016-08-23 The essays in this volume provide a theorization of what we might call the denatured wild in other words a notion of environmental restoration or reinhabitation that recognizes and reconfigures the human factor as an interdependent entity Acknowledging the contributions of Marco Armerio, Serenella Iovino, Giovanna Ricoveri, Patrick Barron and Anna Re among others Ecocritical Approaches to Italian Culture and Literature: The Denatured Wild negotiates the ground within the historicizing theoretical perspectives and surveying spirit of these writers Despite the central role that nature has played in Italian culture and literature there has been an evident lack of critical approaches free of the bridles of the socio-political manipulations of nationalism The authors in this collection by recognizing the groundbreaking work of many non-Italian ecocritics challenge the narrowly defined conventions of Italian Studies and illuminates the complexities of an Italian ecocriticism that reveals a rich environmentally engaged literary and cultural tradition

Disrupted Narratives Emma Bond, 2017-07-05 If Madame Bovary's death in Flaubert's 1857 novel marked the definitive end of the Romantic vision of literary disease then the advent of psychoanalysis less than half a century later heralded an entirely new set of implications for literature dealing with illness The theorization of a potential unconscious double capable of expressing the body and thus also the intimate damage caused by disease in turn suggested a capacity to subvert or destabilize the text exposing the main thread of the narrative to be unreliable or self-conscious Indeed the authors examined in this study Italo Svevo 1861-1928, Giorgio Pressburger 1937 and Giuliana Morandini 1938 all make use of individual infected or suppressed voices within their texts which unfold through illness to cast doubt on a more conventionally dominant narrative standpoint Applying the theories of Freud and more recent writings by Julia Kristeva, Bond offers a new critical reading of the literary function of illness a function related to the very nature of narration itself
