L'anatomie dentaire enseignée en deuxième de chirurgie dentaire est une matière fondamentale qui comprend une partie théorique et une partie pratique. Les travaux pratiques se déroulent tout au long de l'année et abordent plusieurs thématiques : reconnaissance, dessin, sculpture de dents. Malgré l'existence de guides pratiques, nous avons remarqué un nombre réduit de supports pédagogiques afin d'assurer le bon déroulement des travaux dirigés. Le propos de cette thèse est donc de pallier ce manque avec la laboration de séquences vidéos et de fiches pédagogiques sur chacune des thématiques. Le contenu de cet ouvrage sera disponible sur le campus de Lille 2 afin d'assurer un enseignement distance.

L'analyse des éléments constitutifs de l'organe dentaire permet d'attribuer chaque forme de contour un rôle fonctionnel précis. L'organisation des structures entre elles met en valeur l'architecture de la dent, son intégration dans l'environnement des différents composants du complexe manducateur et son adaptation à la physiologie stomatognathique. Il fallait un procédé pédagogique pour satisfaire une telle ambition. La technique de la cire par addition par sa chronologie analytique offre une méthode de prédilection. La mise en place, l'évaluation du volume et l'établissement de la forme de contour de chaque structure s'effectuent avec une précision remarquable. Les rapports avec les unités collatérales et les tissus environnants, les relations avec les organes antagonistes peuvent être établis de la manière la plus judicieuse en fonction du contexte clinique. Grâce à la structuration analytique que permet cette technique, les réponses fonctionnelles qu'elle propose ne sont jamais univoques.
