Handbook of Research on Teacher Practices for Diverse Writing Instruction Hodges, Tracey S.,2022-05-20 The art and practice of writing is complex and multidimensional students often apply unique writing styles As such educators must apply focused teaching methods to nurture these unique forms of writing Educators must stay up to date with the practices for diverse writing instruction in order to best engage with a diverse classroom However resources related to writing typically do not focus on the depth and breadth of writing and there is a need for a resource that offers a comprehensive look at diverse writing instruction research The Handbook of Research on Teacher Practices for Diverse Writing Instruction provides a rich discussion of the issues perspectives and methods for writing instruction currently in use with an added lens focusing on diversity and equity It provides unique coverage on the topic of writing instruction for practical implementation within the classroom setting Covering topics such as student motivation curriculum development and content area instruction this major reference work is an essential resource for preservice teachers faculty and administration of K 12 and higher education academic libraries government officials school boards researchers and academicians

Exemplars of Assessment in Higher Education Jane Marie Souza,Tara A. Rose,2023-07-03 Co published with While assessment may feel to constituents like an activity of accountability simply for accreditors it is most appropriate to approach assessment as an activity of accountability for students Assessment results that improve institutional effectiveness heighten student learning and better align resources serve to make institutions stronger for the benefit of their students and those results also serve the institution or program well during the holistic evaluation required through accreditation from the foreword by Heather Perfetti President of the Middle States Commission on Higher Education Colleges and universities struggle to understand precisely what is being asked for by accreditors and this book answers that question by sharing examples of success reported by schools specifically recommended by accreditors This compendium gathers examples of assessment practice in twenty four higher education institutions twenty three in the U S and one in Australia All institutions represented in this book were suggested by their accreditor as having an effective assessment approach in one or more of the following assessment focused areas assessment in the disciplines co curricular course program institutional assessment equity and inclusion general education online learning program review scholarship of teaching and learning student learning or technology These examples recommended by accrediting agencies makes this a unique contribution to the assessment literature The book is organized in four parts Part One is focused on student learning and assessment and includes ten chapters The primary focus for Part Two is student learning assessment from a disciplinary perspective and includes four chapters Part Three has a faculty engagement and assessment focus and Part Four includes four chapters on institutional effectiveness and assessment with a focus on strategic planning This book is a publication of the Association for the Assessment of Learning in Higher Education AALHE an organization of practitioners interested in using effective assessment practice to document and improve student learning

Transparency in Assessment - Exploring the Influence of Explicit Assessment Criteria Anders Jönsson, Frans Prins, 2019-04-03 In many schools and higher education institutions it has become common practice to share assessment criteria with students Sometimes it is required for accountability purposes at other times criteria are used as a means to communicate expectations to students However the idea that explicit assessment criteria should be shared with students has been contested On the one hand research has shown that explicit criteria may positively affect student performance reduce their anxiety as well as support students use of self regulated learning strategies On the other hand there are fears that explicit criteria may have a restraining influence on students learning as well as limiting their autonomy and creativity There are also indications of students becoming more performance oriented as opposed to learning oriented when being provided with explicit assessment criteria Taken together it is not fully understood under which circumstances it is productive for student learning to share explicit assessment criteria and under which circumstances it is not In particular empirical research on the proposed negative effects of sharing criteria with learners is limited and most fears voiced in the literature are based on individual experiences and anecdotal evidence In this book we therefore bring different perspectives on transparency in assessment together in order to further our understanding of how students are influenced by the use of explicit assessment criteria A deeper understanding of the influence of explicit assessment criteria on students understanding of criteria motivation and learning is equally imperative for future research and educational practice both of which need to go beyond individual opinions and convictions
