Junior Cert Geography Paper 2011

Alfred Emanuel Smith, Francis Walton

Junior Cert Geography Paper 2011:

Handbook of Geography Education Sarah Witham Bednarz, Jerry T. Mitchell, 2025-01-27 This handbook presents a broad and comprehensive overview of research and practices in geography education at primary and secondary levels from birth to about age 18 It summarizes the current state of knowledge in this sub discipline of geography Including authors representative of many geography education traditions the book pays equal attention to learning and teaching and to respect student voices and includes rich in case studies evidence based research and specific examples It also emphasizes ways that geography education can contribute to global concerns about social justice diversity equity and inclusion as well as ways it can help to prepare the next generation of informed critical and reflective members of societies The book is divided into five sections Purposes of geography education Why is it taught Perspectives on geography education What is taught Practices of geography education How is it organized and taught Preparation of geography educators How are geography educators prepared Possibilities for geography education What is the future of geography education By providing broad perspectives and lively and accessible writing this handbook is a useful tool for novice geography educators teacher educators educational policy makers support staff such as librarians and media resource specialists curriculum developers and assessment experts in many world regions Understanding and Applying Assessment in Education Damian Murchan, Gerry Shiel, 2017-04-29 All teachers are responsible for assessing the children they teach and the outcomes of any assessment are important for individual learners and the wider school This book is your one stop shop for understanding assessment in schools It covers formative and summative approaches used across primary and secondary education supporting a balanced overview with policy examples drawn from the UK Ireland and wider international contexts Designed as a pragmatic handbook for new teachers and those training to teach the book discusses key principles of assessment before providing guidance on developing and carrying out assessment in the classroom and looking at how assessment information can be used to benefit your teaching and the children you teach Wellbeing and Schooling Ros McLellan, Carole Faucher, Venka Simovska, 2022-05-05 Collectively the research presented in this book revisits challenges and rearticulates taken for granted wellbeing conceptualisations policies and intervention frameworks as critical discussion of wellbeing in relation to children and young people from a variety of socio cultural political and economic settings is still relatively sparse The contributions work synergistically to generate a sophisticated understanding of children's wellbeing while introducing fresh and context sensitive approaches Pre conceived and taken for granted notions of wellbeing are problematised through four sections in i Re examining conceptualisations of wellbeing in educational research and policy ii Focusing on School environments schooling and wellbeing iii Examining the significance of cultural contexts and iv Amplifying children's voices The objective is to help generate new ways of researching and thinking about wellbeing and schooling that transcend monocultural monodisciplinary and monomethodological strategies The book aims to stimulate further theoretical and empirical research as well as development of effective policies and school interventions which nuance rather than reduce complexity of both education and wellbeing

Impacts of Climate Change and Variability on Pastoralist Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Melese Getu, Munyae M. Mulinge, 2013 The term climate change is used to denote any significant but extended change in the measures of climate The changes could be due to natural variability or as a result of human activities such as the burning of fossil fuels to produce energy deforestation industrial processes and some agricultural practices Such activities release large amounts of carbon dioxide and other greenhouse gases into the atmosphere that hang like a blanket around the earth thus trapping energy in the atmosphere and causing it to warm up This results increasingly in climate variability which is characterised by extreme seasonal annual temporal and non spatial variability in temperature vagaries of precipitation rainfall patterns and amounts and or wind patterns occurring over a prolonged period of time The last decade 2001 2010 has been the warmest on record with the average temperatures reaching 0.46 C above the 1961 1990 mean and 0.21 C warmer than the 1991 2000 period It has been proved that the African continent is warming up faster all year round than the global average a trend that is likely to continue By the year 2100 it is predicted that temperature changes will fall into ranges of about 1.4 C to nearly 5.8 C increase in mean surface temperature compared to 1990 and the mean sea level will rise between 10cm to 90 cm AMCEN 2011 The interior of semiarid margins of the Sahara and central southern Africa will be the most affected by such warming AMCEN 2011 To tackle the phenomenon of climate change effectively human societies have put in place a combination of mitigation and adaptation mechanisms and strategies Whereas mitigation aims at avoiding or lessening the impacts of the unmanageable the goal of adaptation is to manage the unavoidable That men and women are affected differently by climate change suggests that they also differ in terms of the adaptation mechanisms they employ Despite the existence of gender based differences in the effects of climate change and in adaptation and coping strategies studies on the gender differential impacts of climate change and variability on women in general and pastoralist women in particular in sub Saharan Africa are limited This volume offers insights and knowledge that pastoralist women developed on climate change adaptation through their experiences in their households and communities and thereby tries to narrow this gap
