Last Day

It was the last day of summer and Jake had big plans! First, his mom was making pancakes for breakfast, and she said he could pour his own syrup today. He didn't like it when he didn't get to pour it himself because he never felt like he got quite enough. In Jake's opinion, every pancake bite needed to have syrup.

After breakfast, he was going to finish building his pirate ship. He was building it out of Legos and he was extremely proud of himself because he wasn't looking at a box. The entire design was from his own brain! Jake's grandpa was always saying how creative he was, and that he was going to grow up to be something amazing. Jake was pretty sure his grandpa was right.

The rest of the day was going to be spent at his best friend's birthday party. Jake's best friend was Peter. Peter was seven years old and celebrating with a Laser Tag party. Jake couldn't wait to go!

It was definitely going to be the perfect way to spend his last day of summer. Jake got out of bed and headed to the kitchen. There was no time to waste!

Reading in a Second Language William Grabe, Junko Yamashita, 2022-09-08 Understanding reading abilities and their development is fundamental for language comprehension and human cognition. Now in its second edition, this book draws on research from multiple disciplines to explain reading abilities in both L1 and L2 and shows how this research can be applied in practice in order to support reading development. Research into reading has progressed a great deal since the first edition was published, so this edition has been completely updated and revised in order to reflect these advances. All chapters present updated research studies and completely new chapters are included on the neurocognition of reading, reading-writing relationships, and digital reading. If you want to know how reading works, no matter the languages involved, as well as how it can be taught effectively, this book provides a persuasive research foundation and many practical insights. It is essential reading for academic researchers and students in Applied Linguistics and TESOL. Learning foreign languages: experiences of persons with disabilities and special educational needs and their teachers

Ewa Domagala-Zysk, Jitka Sedláčková, Katarzyna Karpińska-Szaj, 2025-09-22 In many parts of the world, it is not a person's native language but a foreign one which is used for education, work, or entertainment. This is true for many European countries whose inhabitants need to learn English as a foreign language if they want to participate in education or among diverse fields in the workforce. In other parts of the world, it might be Spanish, Hindi, Mandarin, Chinese, Arabic, or other languages which will be serving a similar role. This need for learning a second language is understood well in many educational programs, including those for students with special educational needs. However, to date, there is not much research on the experiences of persons with diverse additional needs as learners of foreign languages. The most robust literature covers the field of additional language acquisition among Deaf and Hard of Hearing (DHH) people (cf. Domagala-Zysk, Podlowska-Moritz, 2021) and others. Goals, methods, and forms of teaching are fairly well described, and DHH students' needs have been documented extensively. Eye-tracking While
