International Review for the Sociology of Sport ,2001 Theology and Religious Studies in Higher Education

Darlene L. Bird,Simon G. Smith,2009-03-22 A collection of essays by some of today s leading academics on the sometimes contentious relationship between religious studies and theology

Blacks in Whites Ashwin Desai,2002 The South African past is rich with stories of courage initiative and endeavour which have never become history because they are the stories of those excluded from power This book seeks to transform some of these stories into history in this case into the history of cricket in Natal hitherto dominated by the official and the privileged

Securing the State and its Citizens Paul O'Neill,2022-06-02 The global security situation is challenging and constantly changing Responding to threats requires the effective coordination of the various levers of national power These must now go beyond the traditional diplomatic information military and economic levers to involve other non security agencies including those responsible for the environment health education and industry Through a uniquely extensive study of countries from across the world this book considers how nations have developed bespoke coordination mechanisms to the unique threats they face and how these mechanisms have had to evolve as the threats change It covers nations for whom the system is well established e g the US in 1947 and other countries whose arrangements are more recent such as the UK 2010 Where the National Security Councils have existed for longest the case studies highlight how they have transformed as the national understanding of security has changed typically to reflect a broadening Consequently while there are no universal solutions the comparative approach taken in this book identifies enduring principles for shaping the creation or reform of national security coordination fit for the challenges of the twenty first century

The Race Game Douglas Booth,2012-12-06 1999 North American Society for Sports History Book of the Year Douglas Booth looks at the role of sport in the fostering of a new national identity in South Africa He analyzes the effect of the 30 year sport boycott but concludes that sport will never unite South Africans except in the most fleeting and superficial manner

Drawing for Science Education Phyllis Katz,2017-03-23 This book argues for the essential use of drawing as a tool for science teaching and learning The authors are working in schools universities and continual science learning CSL settings around the world They have written of their experiences using a variety of prompts to encourage people to take pen to paper and draw their thinking sometimes direct observation and in other instances their memories The result is a collection of research and essays that offer theory techniques outcomes and models for the reader Young children have provided evidence of the perceptions that they have accumulated from families and the media before they reach classrooms Secondary students describe their ideas of chemistry and physics Teacher educators use drawings to consider the progress of their undergraduates understanding of science teaching and even their moral ethical responses to teaching about climate change Museum visitors have drawn their understanding of the physics of how exhibit sounds are transmitted A physician explains how the history of drawing has been a critical tool to medical education and doctor patient communications Each chapter contains samples insights and where applicable analysis techniques The chapters in this book should be helpful to researchers and teachers alike across the teaching and learning continuum The sections are divided by the kinds of activities for which drawing has historically been used in science education An instance of observation Audubon Linnaeus A process how plants grow over time what happens when chemicals combine Conceptions of what science is and who does it Images of identity development in science teaching and learning South African national bibliography ,1995

The Southern African Development Directory ,2000 The Race to Transform Ashwin Desai,2010 The Race to Transform provides a challenging exploration of how sport reflects matters such as inequality racial transformation and the making or otherwise of a common South African destiny To date much sports writing in South Africa has been celebratory paying attention to big moments like the winning of the Rugby World Cups and hosting the Soccer World Cup With the lens focused on national teams the impact of South Africa s transition on township sport has received less attention This book provides a view on the relationship between elite and grassroots sport in the context of growing economic disparities and the emergence of an influential black middle and super rich class The contributors a mix of activist intellectuals and those directly involved in the game outline an agenda for both theory and practice in the ongoing debate about sport and transformation in South Africa Every sports lover who senses the power of politics and economics over his or her beloved game should read this book Written in a style that is accessible and interesting it is essential reading for administrators social scientists and people with an interest in social change Who's who of Southern Africa ,2003 Vols for 1967 70 include as a section Who s who of Rhodesia Mauritius Central and East Africa Annual Report and Financial Statements South African Broadcasting Corporation,2002 Environmental Justice Networker ,1995 Annual Report South Africa.
