Cultural Mediation in Language Learning and Teaching Geneviève Zarate, Council of Europe, European Centre for Modern Languages, 2004-01-01 This project attempts to tackle several challenges to experience the variety of different teaching cultures as a source of innovation rather than as an obstacle to adopt a pluridisciplinary approach by introducing references taken from the social sciences in order to develop reflection on the role of languages in social cohesion to try and provide answers to a question hitherto rarely raised in the didactics of languages and cultures namely the place of cultural mediation itself CoE website

Colonial Memory and Postcolonial Europe Andrea L. Smith, 2006-08-21 It intersects with very active areas of research in history and anthropology and links these domains of inquiry spanning Europe and North Africa in a creative and innovative fashion Douglas Holmes Binghamton University Maltese settlers in colonial Algeria had never lived in France but as French citizens were abruptly repatriated there after Algerian independence in 1962 In France today these pieds noirs are often associated with Mediterranean qualities the persisting tensions surrounding the French Algerian War and far right anti immigrant politics Through their social clubs they have forged an identity in which Malta not Algeria is the unifying ancestral homeland Andrea L Smith uses history and ethnography to argue that scholars have failed to account for the effect of colonialism on Europe itself She explores nostalgia and collective memory the settlers liminal position in the colony as subalterns and colonists and selective forgetting in which Malta replaces Algeria the true homeland which is now inaccessible fraught with guilt and contradiction The study provides insight into race ethnicity and nationalism in Europe as well as cultural context for understanding political trends in contemporary France

Second Language Learning and Language Teaching Vivian Cook, 2013-11-26 The fourth edition of this classic textbook has been revised to reflect recent developments in language teaching and learning yet retains the basic structure and approach so popular with its readers Teaching and learning content has been updated particularly taking into account the rise of task based learning Conversational Analysis and social models of second language acquisition changes in national syllabuses and examinations and the increasing controversy over the role of the native speaker target Each chapter has been revised to stand alone enabling the text to be taught and studied out of sequence if preferred A set of focussing questions has also been added to each and further reading sections have been updated In addition icons appear throughout the text signalling where extra information summaries data lecture notes test batteries and more can be found on the author s accompanying website www.routledge.com/cw/cook Second Language Learning and Language Teaching remains the essential textbook for all student teachers of modern languages and TESOL as well as applied linguistics

Promoting Linguistic Diversity and Whole-school Development Antoinette Camilleri, European Centre for Modern Languages, 2007-01-01 The Council of Europe stresses the importance of multilingualism in society and of individual plurilingual competence as means to social cohesion Ultimately it is within the school that the necessary innovations need to take place The case studies presented in this publication are an authentic illustration of how this is being realised in different contexts and what successes and challenges it presents By bringing these innovative language education programmes and school profiles to the fore its participating in the creation of a new paradigm of school leadership whereby pupils parents and the local community instead of being excluded controlled and forgotten become actively involved in language endeavours Similarly teachers can move on from being simply the executors of education programmes to becoming participants in drawing up implementing and evaluating school policies

Crosslinguistic Encounters in Language Acquisition Elena Babatsouli, David Ingram, Nicole Müller, 2017-11-20 This book presents diverse original research studies on typical and atypical child language acquisition in monolingual bilingual and bi dialectal settings with a focus on development assessment and research methodology Languages investigated in the studies include underrepresented languages such as Farsi Greek Icelandic isiXhosa Maltese Mandarin and Slovene without excluding representative work in major languages like English and Spanish The language areas of focus are phonology lexicon morphology and syntax and the book incorporates studies in under researched language impairment such as Obstructive Sleep Apnea Syndrome and language impairment in 22q11.2 Deletion Syndrome The book has practical significance in that it proposes tools and assessment practices that are of universal crosslinguistic relevance while also dealing with language specific complications The studies presented enhance existing knowledge and stimulate answers on what the acquisition of disparate languages in different contexts can teach us about language communication development in the presence or absence of disorder
