

Memorandum

Dated: 14 January 2023

To: Sales & Marketing Group

From: Praveenkumar Revankar, Product Engineering

Subject: Delay in release timelines of Feature A and Feature B.

Purpose:

The purpose of this document is to notify the cross-functional group about sudden changes in release timelines of Feature A and Feature B and to reinform the group to reprioritize certain tasks for Sales and Marketing for the release.

Background/Context:

We have been working together on our key USP features 'Feature A' and 'Feature B' for targeting their release this quarter. Due to unforeseen circumstances, there is a change in the release timelines and the new timeline will be shared shortly in Scrum of Scrum meeting where a representative from Sales has been invited.

Action:

Even though it looks like a major setback and current activities w.r.t. The release can be paused, there are certain actions that have to be performed in this quarter. The same has been conveyed in Jira, marking the work items with labels "Q1_Paused" and "Q1_Must." Please reprioritize your internal activities based on the labels in Jira and ensure a final plan reflected in Jira on or before 30 January 2023.

Conclusion:

We might be delayed with the release but we are not affecting the business. The necessary strategy is defined and put in place to ensure customers can solve their problems using our support until Feature A and Feature B release.

Thanks,
Praveenkumar Revankar

Smart Cities Policies and Financing John R. Vacca, 2022-01-19 Smart Cities Policies and Financing Approaches and Solutions is the definitive professional reference for harnessing the full potential of policy making and financial planning in smart cities. It covers the effective tools for capturing the dynamic relations between people, policies, financing, and environments and where they are most often useful and effective for all relevant stakeholders. The book examines the key role of science, technology, and innovation (STI) especially in information and communications technologies in the design, development, and management of smart cities, policies, and financing. It identifies the problems and offers practical solutions in implementation of smart infrastructure, policies, and financing. Smart Cities Policies and Financing is also about how the implementation of smart infrastructure projects related to the challenges of the lack of financing and the application of suitable policies underlines the key roles of science, technology, and innovation (STI) communities in addressing these challenges and provides key policies and financing that will help guide the design and development of smart cities. Brings together experts from academia, government, and industry to offer state-of-the-art solutions for improving the lives of billions of people in cities around the globe. Creates awareness among governments of the various policy tools available such as output-based contracting, public-private partnerships, procurement policies, long-term contracting, and targeted research funds in order to promote smart infrastructure implementation and encouraging the use of such tools to shape markets for smart infrastructure and correct market failures. Ensures the inclusiveness of smart city projects by adequately addressing the special needs of marginalized sections of society including the elderly, persons with disabilities, and inhabitants of informal settlements and informal sectors. Ensures gender considerations in the design of smart cities and infrastructure through the use of data generated by smart systems to make cities safer and more responsive to the needs of women. Demonstrate practical implementation through real-life case studies. Enhances reader comprehension using learning aids such as hands-on exercises, checklists, chapter summaries, review questions, and an extensive appendix of additional resources.

Green Jobs for Sustainable Development Ana-Maria Boromisa, Sanja Tišma, Anastasya Ležaić, 2015-06-26 A green economy must be built on green jobs, the kind of employment that is low-carbon, intended to reduce energy use, and expected to restore environmental quality. But attempts to define exactly what a green job is have led to varied and often contradictory answers. There are many unresolved questions including whether we consider jobs in the nuclear fuel industry to be green jobs. Or is a worker at a glass-making company which supplies the glass for the solar photovoltaic industry doing a green job given that glass-making is a dirty industry? This book deals with the relationship between green concepts, green jobs, green economy, green growth, and sustainable development. It examines to which extent creation of green jobs supports overall economic development as opposed to creation of elitist jobs and greenwashing. In order to do so, general conceptual frameworks for green jobs, green economy, green growth, and green policy are presented as well as their implementation in ten countries.

selected among the Group of Twenty The selection includes advanced the European Union the United States of America Australia Canada Republic of Korea Japan and developing countries Mexico China Turkey and Brazil The analysis presented in this book shows that although green concept is well intentioned its implementation depends on local circumstances economic political and social Developed countries perceive green growth as a way to create new markets and demand while developing countries rely more on labor intensive growth and less expensive green jobs Thus greening the economy does not diminish differences between rich and poor This book is suitable for those who study and work in Ecological Economics Sustainable Development and Labor Economics

Exclusion and Inclusion in International Migration: Power, Resistance and Identity Armağan Teke Lloyd, 2019-04-30 People on the move face new barriers in a globalizing world Some of these barriers are related with the rise of an increasingly security oriented approach towards international migrants Notwithstanding the forces of globalization states have maintained their monopoly power over whom to admit and whom to deny within their borders In other words they remain the sovereign authority regulating the entry and exit of people However in recent years a number of states have singled out international immigration as the greatest political and social threat to their cultural and national security The securitization of immigration is founded upon the premise that the international movement of people represents an exceptional risk for the survival of the nation and this is often associated with terrorism instability and criminality The securitization of immigration is also based on the idea that the traditional authority vested in states to regulate immigration is somehow insufficient and needs to be enhanced These assumptions correspond with a real policy shift in some countries such as the United States where the government is planning to spend approximately 23 Billion Dollars on border security and immigration enforcement in 2019 alone This edited volume is an exploration of the global landscapes inhabited by refugees and labour migrants although the focus is largely on the former Despite the fact that most of the empirical studies are drawn from within Europe the book also includes research on Nepal Australia the Middle East and Japan in order to reveal the truly global dimensions of migration and the regimes governing this
