The Journal of Educational Research, 1921 Journal of Educational Psychology, 1911 Educational Psychology Frederick J. McDonald, 1959 Emotion in Education Paul A. Schutz, Reinhard Pekrun, 2007 This edited book examines some of the current inquiry related to the study of emotions in educational contexts There has been a notable increased interest in educational research on emotions

Emotion in Education represents some of the most exciting and current research on emotions and education and has the potential to impact research in this area. This combination of variety, timeliness, potential for transformation of the field, and uniqueness make this a must-have resource for academics in the fields of education, educational psychology, emotion psychology, cultural psychology, sociology, and teacher education. The chapters have been written for scholars in the area, but authors also wrote with graduate students in mind. Therefore, the book is also a great volume for graduate seminars. Provides in-depth examination of emotions in educational contexts. Includes international roster of contributors who represent a variety of disciplines. Represents a number of different research approaches.

Publishing in School Psychology and Related Fields Randy G. Floyd, 2018-02-01. Publishing in School Psychology and Related Fields aims to help students, early career professionals, and seasoned scholars alike better understand the process of peer review and publishing in journals, books, and other professional-oriented forums. Edited by a former editor of the Journal of School Psychology and containing chapters from insiders who have operated as productive authors, reviewers, and editors, this informative new resource contains practical and invaluable advice for anyone looking to increase their scholarly productivity and jump start their career.

Educational Psychology Barry J. Zimmerman, Dale H. Schunk, 2014-08-13. Educational Psychology: A Century of Contributions, the first comprehensive book-length treatment of this topic, looks at the historic contributions of 16 leading psychologists as well as others who influenced the field of educational psychology from its philosophical moorings in the late 19th century to its current scientific status at the dawn of the 21st. It presents information regarding these individuals' ideas and scientific discoveries along with a sense of the historical context in which they lived. The book is divided into three sections that correspond to three eras in the history of the discipline: the founding period (1880s to 1920), the rise to prominence period (1920 to 1960), and the modern period (1960 to the present). Each section begins with an overview chapter describing the period in terms of key social, political, and historical events affecting educational theory, research, and practice. In addition, the overview chapters discuss major theoretical, methodological, and instructional contributions of the period and how they changed the course of educational psychology. The biographical chapters describe the scholar's major contribution in terms of theory, research, and practice, and his or her legacy and impact. These descriptions portray these individuals as real human beings responding to historical events and social influences of their time in personal and collective ways that changed the nature and direction of the field. Educational Psychology: A Century of Contributions is a cohesive collection appropriate for graduate and advanced undergraduate students in educational psychology.

Handbook of Educational Psychology Lyn Corno, Eric M. Anderman, 2015-07-06. The third edition of the Handbook of Educational Psychology is sponsored by Division 15 of the American Psychological Association. In this volume, thirty chapters address new developments in theory and research methods while honoring the legacy of the field's past. A diverse group of recognized scholars within and outside the U.S. provide integrative reviews and critical syntheses of developments in the substantive areas of psychological inquiry in education functional processes for learning learner readiness and development building knowledge and subject matter expertise and the learning and task environment New chapters in this edition cover topics such as learning sciences research latent variable models data analytics neuropsychology relations between emotion motivation and volition EMOVO scientific literacy sociocultural perspectives on learning dialogic instruction and networked learning Expanded treatment has been given to relevant individual differences underlying processes and new research on subject matter acquisition The Handbook of Educational Psychology Third Edition provides an indispensable reference volume for scholars in education and the learning sciences broadly conceived as well as for teacher educators practicing teachers policy makers and the academic libraries serving these audiences It is also appropriate for graduate level courses in educational psychology human learning and motivation the learning sciences and psychological research methods in education and psychology Handbook of Psychology, Educational Psychology William M. Reynolds, Gloria J. Miller, 2003-06-02 Includes established theories and cutting edge developments Presents the work of an international group of experts Presents the nature origin implications and future course of major unresolved issues in the area British Journal of Educational Psychology , The British Psychological Society publishes the quarterly British Journal of Educational Psychology The journal contains papers about the understanding and practice of education empirical and theoretical studies case studies action research surveys experimental studies and psychometric or methodological research Samples copies and ordering information are included Historical Foundations of Educational Psychology John A. Glover, Royce R. Ronning, 2013-11-11 This volume represents a beginning effort to compile a history of educational psychology The project began innocuously enough several years ago when we decided to add mon material about the history of educational psychology to the undergraduate course we were teaching What seemed like a simple task became very complex as we searched in vain for a volume dealing with the topic We ended up drawing on various histories of psychology that devoted anywhere from a few paragraphs to several pages to the topic and on a very few articles addressing the issue We were startled frankly by the apparent lack of interest in the history of our field and decided to attempt to compile a history ourselves As is the case with any edited volume the contributing authors deserve credit for its positive features They uniformly made every effort asked of them and taught us much about educational psychology Any errors or omissions are our responsibility alone
