Digital Inequalities in Media Education in South Asia Padma Rani, Bhanu Bhakta Acharya, Kulveen Trehan, 2025-01-24 This study explores the media education systems in South Asia looking not just at the heavy disruption of the Covid 19 pandemic but also the long standing digital inequalities and unequal socioeconomic opportunities that lead to reduced access to devices technology and digital media With a focus on eight South Asian countries Afghanistan Bangladesh Bhutan India Maldives Nepal Pakistan and Sri Lanka the chapters examine the adoption of technology for pedagogical purposes during the pandemic and the underlying socioeconomic reasons behind difficulties in implementing such rapid digital transformation in the region The authors then consider how we can draw from the performance of South Asian media education institutions already suffering from various digital divides during the Covid 19 pandemic to apply these lessons to the broader academic community With contributions from an international team of authors this book will interest students scholars and policymakers around the world working in the areas of media literacy education studies digital media global development and sociology

21 University of Maryland at College Park. College of Journalism,1994 Journalism and Mass Communication Programs in the University Alexis S. Tan,1991 Strategic Communication and the Global Pandemic Juan Meng,Ralph Tench,2025-02-12 This book advances knowledge about strategic communication with an aim to improve the practice of strategic communication in unprecedented times It stimulates serious scholarly research on strategic communication and its management and execution during challenging times such as the COVID 19 global pandemic The book is organized into three sections with the first section presenting an overview of the main theoretical models of strategic communication from around the world when investigating its relationship in managing the global pandemic The second section offers diverse perspectives on the role of strategic communication in challenging times ranging from government communications organizational leadership leadership communication to influencers on social networking platforms The final section focuses on building frameworks that can be used to facilitate public health response plans through strategic communication before during and after pandemics and or other acute risk issues or societal traumas By providing a range of strategic communication scholarship grounded in different academic disciplines and cultural and political contexts this volume offers an international perspective for scholars and educators to understand the complexity of the topic itself This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Strategic Communication Media Education Assessment Handbook William G. Christ,2020-07-24 Assessing media education is a formidable task because both assessment and media education are complex and controversial concepts Assessment which can take place at the individual student class sequence program department or unit and university levels is questioned in terms of reliability validity relevance and cost Media education which has been challenged at a number of schools finds faculty and administrators in the midst of soul searching about how to clearly articulate its missions and purposes to a broader audience Departments are under increasing national state and institutional pressure to get assessment procedures carried out quickly but there is an obvious danger in rushing to implement assessment strategies before establishing what is essential in media education In communication education in general the what of assessment is often discussed in terms of skills attitudes affect values and knowledge People assess students to determine what they know think feel value and can do Here it is suggested that one of the places to start defining what students should learn from their media education is by identifying outcomes Outcomes can be assessed in a variety of ways but first they need to be developed and clearly articulated
