Positive Educational Approaches to Teaching Effectiveness and Student Well-being Hans Henrik Knoop, Mirna Nel, Sufen Chen, Rebecca Shankland, Llewellyn Ellardus Van Zyl, Matthew Cole, 2022-11-08 Education in Vietnam Martin Hayden, Thi Le Tran, 2024-08-02 Offering insights into the current and projected future state of the education system in Vietnam this edited volume is an authoritative sourcebook for scholars policy analysts academic staff and students Vietnam is well on its way to joining the dress circle of high achieving education nations in Asia International surveys of the academic aptitude and ability of the nation s youth consistently place it well above relevant regional and global averages This accomplishment is remarkable for a country with a gross domestic product per capita of only US 2 785 in 2020 The dynamics of Vietnam s national education system are comprehensively documented in the book Each of the country s education sectors is critically appraised as well as the culture of education in Vietnam Specific issues concerning funding and equity quality and accreditation the teaching of curriculum areas the internationalisation of the system and the provision of educational opportunities for young people with disabilities are carefully analysed against a background of relevant global trends With contributions from well established and highly respected local experts with high aspirations for the future development of the national education system in Vietnam this book will be a must read for academics and students of Southeast Asian studies and comparative education COVID-19: Mid- and Long-Term Educational and Psychological Consequences for Students and Educators Isabel Morales-Muñoz, Ricardo Scott, Maria Jose Alvarez-Alonso, 2022-05-23 Our Social World Jeanne H. Ballantine, Keith A. Roberts, Kathleen Odell Korgen, 2018-11-29 Our Social World Introduction to Sociology inspires students to develop their sociological imaginations to see the world and personal events from a new perspective and to confront sociological issues on a day to day basis Organized around the Social World model a conceptual framework that demonstrates the relationships among individuals the micro level organizations institutions and subcultures the meso level and societies and global structures the macro level Jeanne H Ballantine Keith A Roberts and Kathleen Odell Korgen use this framework to help students develop the practice of using three levels of analysis and to view sociology as an integrated whole rather than a set of discrete subjects The Seventh Edition includes new coverage of climate change the influence of robots and artificial intelligence on workers race relations in the Trump era issues related to transgender identity and gender fluidity sexual harassment in the workplace and the MeToo movement declining marriage rates the impact of tracking for students at all academic achievement levels smoking as an example of health and inequality in the US gun violence and the student movement to control access to guns social media and Russian interference in the 2016 election The Nature of Business Transformation Richard Kelly, 2022-03-17 This book is a practical guide for business professionals to develop and improve business intelligence and collective decision making within their organisation It proposes a progressive reconfiguration of the traditional business operating system using a nature inspired framework called swarm facilitation that enables and facilitates collective decision making Organisations have followed the same rigid formula of problem solving and decision making for over 100 years It is dominated by centralised governance and pyramid decision making Such an approach is no longer fit for purpose in an environment of employee disengagement artificial intelligence AI superintelligence and Covid 19 fallout By the end of this book readers will be able to solve organisational problems and challenges collectively using swarm intelligence upgrade and future proof business operating systems to reflect a more collective decision making approach fit for the new connected economy and Industry 4 0 embrace mindset quotients that support people working in a more networked self organising and collective environment The book is important reading for leaders and managers who are focused on building organisational capital and engagement and gaining value from the emerging technology by evolving their business operating system into a digital ecosystem as part of an ongoing digital transformation strategy It will also appeal to experts working in the field of organisational change and development both within the organisation and as consultants

Marine Ecosystem Restoration (MER) - Challenges and New Horizons

Brian Silliman,Avigdor Abelson,Christine Angelini,Gesche Krause,Megan Irene Saunders,Tjisse Van Der Heide,2023-10-23 Worldwide marine ecosystems have been lost and degraded due to anthropogenic disturbances For example oyster reefs have declined by at least 85% coral reefs by 19% seagrasses by 29% North American salt marshes by 42% and mangroves by 35% from the early 19th century Deepwater reefs and deep sea vents are not immune and have also been reduced in extent in many areas Factors driving these losses include habitat destruction pollution invasive species overfishing trawling mining and more recently climate change effects such as ocean warming species range changes and acidification These habitat declines are occurring at a time when marine waters are being used at or near their maximum productive capacity to meet the contemporary needs of an ever increasing human population Because coastal and marine ecosystems generate some of the richest biodiversity hotspots on Earth and provide critical ecosystem services including storm protection fisheries production and carbon storage over 1 billion US dollars have been spent globally in an attempt to halt and reverse observed declines Early conservation efforts aimed at protecting these valuable and threatened habitats focused on reducing human impacts and physical stressors However with habitat degradation continuing and sometimes increasing in rate it is now clear conservation alone will not be sufficient to protect and reestablish coastal ecosystems Habitat restoration although in existence for many decades has recently been elevated as a new primary strategy to stem and even reverse coastal habitat loss The call for increasing investment in restoration efforts has emerged with significant advances in propagule rearing and dispersion of habitat forming organisms e g oysters seagrasses corals In addition restoration resources are increasingly allocated by governments and or large corporations with the aim to for example fix past landscape engineering efforts that had unintended environmental consequences Such investments are being made to i provide jobs for those unemployed during economic downturns ii restore ecosystems destroyed by natural disasters and stressors iii increase coastal defense in response to increased frequency of intense storms and or iv compensate for pollution and development driven habitat degradation Conservation practitioners have traditionally been skeptical to invest heavily in restoration at large scales because of the high cost per area 10 000 5 000 000 US ha for coastal vs 500 5 000 US ha for terrestrial systems to replant coastal ecosystems and or the high chance that the restored ecosystems will not live long e g outplanted corals For restoration to be effective and employed as a primary method of coastal conservation at relevant scales we must improve its efficiency lower costs and rapidly share and incorporate advances One crucial step will be to identify when and where restoration attempts have been carried out according to state of art ecological theory and gauge their success Another is generating synthesis studies that focus both within and across ecosystems to identify efficiencies adaptations and innovations Work that shows theoretical and methodological innovations in specific ecosystems as well as across systems will be critical to pushing all fields of MER forward Although there is rapidly increasing interest and investment the field of marine ecosystem restoration is just beginning to undergo synthesis Therefore the aim of this Research Topic is to bring together research contributions to help address this synthesis need provide a spotlight for recent innovations enhance our understanding of successful methods in marine ecosystem restoration and promote integration of ecological sociological and engineering theory into restoration practices
