On one level a tale of murder, passion, and possession, it is also a compassionate study of individuals derailed by atavistic forces beyond their control. Zola considered this his most finely worked novel and in it he powerfully evokes life at the end of the Second Empire in France where society seemed to be hurtling into the future like the new locomotives and railways it was building. While expressing the hope that human nature evolves through education and gradually frees itself of the burden of inherited evil he is constantly reminding us that under the veneer of technological progress there remains always the beast within L'homme criminel Cesare Lombroso, Charles-Jean-Marie Letourneau, 1887 L'homme criminel Cesare Lombroso, 1887 La contagion du meurtre, étude d'anthropologie criminelle Paul von Aubry, 1896
