Nursing John Turnbull, 2008-04-15 Learning disability nurses play a leading role in the care and support of people with learning disabilities. Learning Disability Nursing explores the theory and practice of learning disability nursing with an emphasis on understanding the experiences of learning disability nurses as they seek to practice effectively. It examines key issues faced by people with learning disabilities and those who support them and promotes the role of knowledgeable and reflective practitioners. Develops a framework for learning disability nursing practice. Examines key issues for people with learning disabilities. Identifies distinctive features of learning disability nursing. Supports learning disability nurses in developing their roles and to support those with learning disabilities in exercising their rights. Explores ethical and moral dilemmas, challenges and successes.

Learning Disability Nursing Practice Mark Jukes, 2014-10-22 This text encapsulates not only the origins of nursing in the learning disability field but also contemporary perspectives and areas for specialist nursing practice. The book is divided into four sections: origins, perspectives, practice and further perspectives. Section one: origins describes Great Barr Colony and explores the conceptions of practice of actual attendants and nurses who worked there. It gives readers an in-depth focus on aspects of work and practice not accounted for in the literature to date. Section two: perspectives explores social policy perspectives from the past eras of the workhouse, the colony and the hospital through to the present age of citizenship. Research in learning disability nursing practice is identified through scoping exercises to identify its current status. The section questions the research and practice developments that have come of age and that constitute a challenge within an evidence-based health and social care world. Section three: practice identifies a wide range of specialist areas of nursing practice including community learning disability nursing, epilepsy, forensics, health facilitation, autism, mental health, challenging behaviour, children's services and working with people with profound and multiple learning disabilities. Section four: further perspectives addresses areas of contemporary and future concern, namely educational curricula for nurses and the importance of inter-professional education and practice development.
