Life Science Paper Eastern Cape 2013:

Towards Democratic Development States in Southern Africa Godfrey Kanyenze, Herbert Jauch, 2016-12-14 The dawn of the twenty first century heralded an apparent change of fortunes for most sub Saharan African economies with annual growth averaging over 5% for fifteen years However this was not accompanied by structural transformation poverty food insecurity unemployment and inequality persist Structural transformation has not been and indeed cannot be delivered by market forces and neo liberal economic policies it requires a state committed to development and to achieving it in a democratic way To what extent do the countries of Southern Africa exhibit the characteristics of such a developmental state What steps if any do they need to take in order to become one The book answers the questions with respect to South Africa Botswana Namibia Zimbabwe Angola and Malawi Godfrey Kanyenze and his colleagues have assembled a distinguished team of writers to take the temperature of the regional political economy and chart a path for its future development Evolution and Fossil Record of African Proboscidea William J. Sanders, 2023-08-25 This book details the long diverse and complex phylogenetic history of elephants and their fossil relatives the Proboscidea whose origin is deeply embedded some 60 million years ago in Africa Most of the major evolutionary events of proboscideans occurred in Africa and these are examined in their geological paleoecological geographic and faunal contexts Updated information about feeding adaptations taxonomy and systematics genetics and site occurrences is included and summarized in tables figures and charts This is the first comprehensive review of African proboscideans and illustrates the need to more actively protect elephants and ensure their survival in modern ecosystems Key Features Provides a comprehensive systematic review of the African proboscidean fossil record Includes a summary of taxonomy geochronology biogeography and morphology Documents major faunal events including those associated with hominin origins Synthesizes new data from genomic isotopic and microware analyses Emphasizes the role of elephants in ecosystems and the importance of conservation Agricultural Bioeconomy Chetan Keswani, Cristina Possas, Emmanuel Koukios, Davide Viaggi, 2022-11-29 Agricultural Bioeconomy Innovation and Foresight in the Post COVID Era presents recent advancements in biotechnology exploring the optimal utilization of technologies to provide rapid and impactful economic recovery and sustainable resources in a future that will bear the mark of COVID 19 Understanding that there is a necessary balance between risk and reward this book provides a foundational hypothesis as well as operational direction for addressing the commercialization and regulatory issues in a bio based economy where agricultural output is at the core By presenting adaptable practices to successfully establish and progress agri based global bioeconomies the book features a new paradigm focused on technological foresight and response to future risks and disasters Key considerations include assessing and managing the urban bioeconomy climate change mitigation biofuels and bioenergy GMOs and employment generation This book provides the solid next step toward future proofing global economies using a combination of agricultural technologies and economic goals Professionals and advanced students focused on the production of renewable biological resources and their conversion into value added products including food feed bio based products and bioenergy will find this book useful Addresses recent issues emerging in agro based economies Empowers utilization of biotechnology to address worldwide ecological issues Presents adaptable risk management approaches to the adoption of socially and financially valuable agri based technologies Meat, milk and more: Policy innovations to shepherd inclusive and sustainable livestock systems in Africa Malabo Montpellier Panel,2020-07-29 Meat Milk More Policy Innovations to Shepherd Inclusive and Sustainable Livestock Systems in Africa highlights options for sustainably promoting growth in the livestock sector drawing from what four African countries Ethiopia Mali South Africa and Uganda have done successfully in terms of institutional and policy innovation as well as programmatic interventions By adapting these lessons to countries specific contexts and scaling them up across the continent African governments can meet their national and international commitments to agricultural growth and transformation Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015, Volumes 1a & 1b (Set) Union of International Associations,2014-06-16 Volume 1 A and B covers international organizations throughout the world comprising their aims activities and events Integrating Indigenous and Scientific Knowledge for Sustainable Food Systems in Africa Saa Dittoh,Anna Bon,Hans Akkermans,2025-04-25 This open access book presents a novel approach to food security research SDG 2 Zero Hunger by integrating indigenous and scientific knowledge Through extensive field based research in Burkina Faso Ghana Kenya Mali and South Africa it explores the impact of merging traditional practices and local knowledge with scientific methods Through field studies the book shows the value of local knowledge and community led innovations in combating hunger achieving food security and enhancing nutrition sustainably and food sovereignty Drawing on decades of research in rural Africa the authors introduce the Plug In Principle a theory for integrating indigenous and modern knowledge systems to foster sustainable agricultural practices and enriched food ecosystems in Africa The Plug In Principle advocates that advancements in science and technology should enhance rather than replace existing indigenous knowledge This principle emerged from the failures of many development interventions where attempts at replacement often led to challenges and failures In agriculture for instance interventions in mechanization soil amendments seed and breed improvements and extension services have seldom succeeded due to a lack of integration with existing practices The Plug In Principle emphasizes that effective knowledge integration hinges on a deep understanding and appreciation of prevailing systems By designing interventions that seamlessly plug in to existing technologies we can ensure the co creation of effective solutions to the challenges we face This book is a testament to the potential of collaborative innovation in fostering sustainable development Development workers policymakers researchers students and donor agencies in agriculture and other development areas will find this volume invaluable Additionally scholars focused on decolonization and indigenous knowledge in the Global South will uncover insightful case studies and analyses Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory Carolyn Farquhar Ulrich,1999 Understanding Energy and

Energy Policy Timothy Braun, Lisa Glidden, 2014-11-13 Activists scientists and policymakers around the world have long argued that we need to find sustainable and secure solutions to the world's energy demands At issue for citizens worldwide is whether we are scientifically literate enough to understand the potential policy choices before us Understanding Energy and Energy Policy is a one stop resource for understanding the complexities of energy policy and the science behind the utilization of energy sources The multidisciplinary perspective presented in this book is necessary for readers to be able to weigh the advantages and disadvantages of potential energy policies The book draws on case studies from the global North and South from countries that are resource poor and resource rich while providing explanations of the science and politics behind burning fossil fuels and power created through nuclear energy solar energy geothermal energy wind energy biofuels and water

The African Food Environments Amos Laar, Kaleab Baye, Anna Lartey, Francis Zotor, Gershim

Asiki, 2023-09-05 In many respects the continent of Africa is in transition Prominent among them currently is the nutrition transition One consequence of the nutrition transition is the increase in prevalence of nutrition related non communicable diseases NCDs such as obesity type 2 diabetes cardiovascular diseases and certain cancers Although NCDs are a global public health problem the rate of increase in NCDs morbidity and mortality in some African countries is staggering This surge has been linked to modifiable environmental factors factors that facilitate the consumption of obesogenic energy dense nutrient poor foods rather than unrefined cereals fruits and vegetables It has long been recognized that the physical and social environments in which people live work and eat are critical determinants of their health More recently there has been a greater focus on the food environment as a key determinant of health Available evidence shows that unhealthy food environments drive unhealthy diets and unhealthy diet is one of four main risk factors for NCDs

The Politics of Potential

Michelle Pentecost, 2024-01-12 The first one thousand days of human life or the period between conception and age two is one of the most pivotal periods of human development Optimizing nutrition during this time not only prevents childhood malnutrition but also determines future health and potential The Politics of Potential examines early life interventions in the first one thousand days of life in South Africa drawing on fieldwork from international conferences government offices health care facilities and the everyday lives of fifteen women and their families in Cape Town Michelle Pentecost explores various aspects of a politics of potential a term that underlines the first one thousand days concept and its effects on clinical care and the lives of childbearing women in South Africa Why was the First One Thousand Days project so readily adopted by South Africa and many other countries Pentecost not only explores this question but also discusses the science of intergenerational transmissions of health disease and human capital and how this constitutes new forms of intergenerational responsibility The women who are the target of first one thousand days interventions are cast as both vulnerable and responsible for the health of future generations such that despite its history intergenerational responsibility in South Africa remains entrenched in powerfully gendered and racialized ways
