Nature Reserves in the Free State Province of South Africa H.L. Jordaan, 2018 During the last ten years the rhino populations of South Africa have suffered under an intense poaching onslaught This onslaught has moved to the Free State Province of South Africa and there is a justified concern that its rhino populations are at risk To protect the rhinos in the Province a need exists to manage the risk of poaching through a practical rhino anti poaching model which can assist to protect them effectively This Rhino Anti Poaching Model can determine and predict a poaching risk can identify weaknesses can assist to address problem areas and will enable efficient monitoring It is imperative to know which rhino species occurred in the Free State Province in historical times to ensure that the correct rhino species is protected against the risk of poaching and that they be kept in a suitable habitat Nine farms in the Free State have rhino as a prefix in their names which may be an indication that rhino did occur in the Province Various historical photos and literature give a retrospective view and show that there was insufficient browsing vegetation for black rhinos to survive The occurrence of open grassland however suggests that white rhinos did occur in those specific areas during the time of the first pioneers During this study period a count of rhinos was done and currently there are 669 white rhinos and 11 black rhinos in the Province thus a total of 680 rhinos in the Free State Province The South African Constitution mandated the State to enforce measures that will ensure adequate environmental protection for the benefit of future generations The South African government promulgated a myriad of new environmental legislation Several international agreements were also introduced as enforcement tools to regulate rhinos The enforcement measures are noble but out of balance with many inspectors but too few law enforcement officials It also over regulates and ensnare officials in minor issues A brief discussion on the latest technological innovations gives insight to the purpose of its development and effectiveness in combating rhino poaching There are currently no technical or strategic solutions to save rhinos from poaching therefore a combination of techniques is needed Although self manufactured unconventional devices seem to be more efficient to deceive poachers a combination with the latest technological equipment and conventional strategies might be the best solution to counter rhino poaching Free State rhino farmers own 90% of the Province's rhinos However these rhino farmers lack the appropriate security measures required to adequately protect their rhinos A questionnaire was developed and data were collected providing statistics on the current stance of security measures on rhino sites in the Province It showed that 80% of rhino poaching occurs in rhino camps bordering public roads 69% of the rhino sites located within 20km from the nearest town reported poaching and 77% of large rhino camps are prone to poaching incidents 57% of the respondents experienced rhino poaching on their sites Through the questionnaire it was gathered that rhino farmers in the Province are not vested in the concept of using trained rhino security A Production Loss Formula was constructed that calculates the production loss of a poached rhino

Africa's Threatened Rhinos Keith

Somerville, 2025-01-14 Africa's surviving rhinos are under serious threat Poaching for their horns massive extermination by sports hunters in the nineteenth and first half of the twentieth century and progressive habitat loss have all driven black and white rhino close to the edge This book considers human interactions with these magnificent and enigmatic animals charting hunting for food and hides and then hunting for horn to meet external demand for this much coveted commodity as well as peaceful coexistence over the course of three millennia With only two females alive in a closely protected reserve in Kenya the Northern White Rhino is on the brink of extinction The Southern White Rhino was increasing in numbers but poaching in South Africa Botswana and Namibia has now reduced the population to fewer than 20 000 while Black Rhino are hovering around the 6 000 6 500 mark also with the danger of extirpation everywhere but in parts of eastern and southern Africa Many books have been written on poaching and the decline of the rhino often from a very personal engaged viewpoint This volume takes the reader into important new territory showing how human agency has led to the situation we now face Covering the history of commercial and sporting exploitation of rhino it brings the picture up to date with an overview of contemporary conservation and anti poaching operations This urgent work is a significant contribution to our understanding of wildlife on the African continent

The Decline of the Black Rhino in Zimbabwe Tom Milliken, Kristin Nowell, Jorgen B. Thomsen, 1993 An evaluation of Zimbabwe's Black Rhino conservation strategy in the face of continuous poaching and illegal trade in rhino horn and an assessment of future options for rhino conservation Guidelines for the in Situ Re-introduction and Translocation of African and Asian Rhinoceros Richard Emslie, Richard Kock, 2009 African Rhino Richard Emslie, 1999 The black and the white rhinoceros have become flagship species for international conservation They are significant not only for the continuation of a major evolutionary heritage but also as symbols for the protection of African savannahs The battle for the survival of these species has been marked by some notable successes and sadly many failures and the situation is still critical The international horn trade ban and the domestic bans imposed in most traditional user states have driven the trade further underground in some cases inflating prices and making illegal dealing even more lucrative This Plan is aimed at donors government and non government organizations and all those involved in rhino conservation It outlines the actions and strategies needed to catalyse support for these majestic animals and help secure their future in sub Saharan Africa The overall conclusion is that given the political will stability and adequate field expenditure rhinos can be conserved in the wild Conservation of Species and the Endangered Rhinoceros United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science and Technology. Subcommittee on Natural Resources, Agriculture Research, and Environment, 1987

The Economics of Rhino Poaching Michael Dawes, 2019 Four Years for the Rhino Kamalajanga Kumvara, 2012 An Analysis of Enforcement of Laws on Rhino Poaching in South Africa Malesela Samuel Mogoshi, 2016 Transnational Links in Rhino Poaching and the Black-Market Price of Rhino Horns Adrian Lopes, 2019 Rhino poaching in South Africa and India's major range states have been remarkably similar over time Organised criminal syndicates manage an illegal supply chain of rhino horns from poachers middlemen and corrupt authorities to East Asian black markets In this paper we use rhino poaching data from South Africa and India to examine the plausibility of transnational links and coordination in their supplies of rhino horns We develop an innovative model of oligopolistic collusion in supply and find empirical evidence to support the theory while controlling for rhino horn demand features corruption governance quality and conservation policy Furthermore we propose an inventory management model of a criminal syndicate that controls the horn supply chain The method retraces and forecasts black market prices and has potential applicability in estimating supply or demand elasticities This paper is the first to suggest an oligopolistic feature of the poaching industry It highlights the need to reorient conservation policy to account for possible coordination of rhino horn supplies between range states Under Siege Vivek Menon, 1996 This report documents the results of a study by TRAFFIC India with the support of WWF India The study began in 1992 and field updates continued to be received until April 1996 The report presents information on rhinoceros population poaching and trade in and use of rhinoceros horn
