

Topic: Stellar Dynamics Lab

Introduction:

During previous students practical experience with the two-body problem. For now, this experiment is limited to two-dimensional dynamics in star-galaxy system, star-star, and star-starlet systems that are very close to it. This is a very limited sample of galactic dynamics. Students' calculations of gravity-related phenomena related to the system of stars (gravitational interactions between stars), this lab contains the calculations "Two-Body System" developed by the Physics Education Technology (PET) group at the University of Colorado at Boulder. From 2014, at <http://phet.colorado.edu/en/simulation/two-body>.

The simulation shows multiple components under the influence of gravity on 2D (two-dimensional) space to maintain in the system of gravity for this simulation that value of G can be taken as 1 or 1000, another units divided for this simulation calculations. For simplicity run left value for this simulation as is. Students should note that the units are arbitrary, but that units of the simulation do not change the simulation.

Procedure:

On the "Two-Body System" simulation on the PET website, and carefully follow the instructions. Select the "Simulation" button on the simulation, and select the "Simulation" button on the main screen.

Activity 1: Check Simulation with the simulation
