African Foreign Policies in International Institutions Jason Warner, Timothy M. Shaw, 2018-05-18 This book is the first to exclusively consider the foreign policy tendencies of African states in international institutions As an edited volume offering empirically based perspectives from a variety of scholars this project disabuses the notion that Africa should be considered a niche interest in the field of foreign policy analysis It asserts that the actions of the continent's states collectively serve as an important heuristic by which to interrogate and understand the foreign policies of other global states and are not simply anomalously extant entities whose actions should be studied only insofar as they deviate from predictions based on the experiences of Western or other non African states , The Politics of Hate Speech Laws Alexander

Brown, Adriana Sinclair, 2019-09-18 This book examines the complex relationship between politics and hate speech laws domestic and international How do political contexts shape understandings of what hate speech is and how to deal with it Why do particular states enact hate speech laws and then apply extend or reform them in the ways they do What part does hate speech play in international affairs Why do some but not all states negotiate agree and ratify international hate speech frameworks or instruments What are some of the best and worst political arguments for and against hate speech laws Do political figures have special moral duties to refrain from hate speech Should the use of hate speech by political figures be protected by parliamentary privilege Should this sort of hyperpolitical hate speech be subject to the laws of the land civil and criminal Or should it instead be handled by parliamentary codes of conduct and procedures or even by political parties themselves What should the codes of conduct look like Brown and Sinclair answer these important and overlooked questions on the politics of hate speech laws providing a substantial body of new evidence insights arguments theories and practical recommendations The primary focus is on the UK and the US but several other country contexts are also explored and compared in detail including Nigeria Kenya South Africa India China Japan Turkey Germany Hungary and Italy Methodologically the two authors draw on approaches and concepts from a range of academic disciplines including law and legal theory political theory applied ethics political science and sociology international relations theory and international law

Africa in the Post-2015 Development Agenda Leo Charles Zulu, Cristina D'Alessandro, 2018-04-19 This book offers a multifaceted examination of Africa's development into the post 2015 global agenda from a geographical perspective As a diversified and highly applied discipline geography has a lot to offer to global debates nuanced analysis of problems on and the search for innovative solutions to advance the African development agenda beyond 2015 The end of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs era and the launch of the Sustainable Development Goals SDGs in September 2015 mark an important turning point for Africa and an opportune time to examine new challenges and opportunities that it faces The regional disparities in MDG progress affirm an important geographic tenet that the unique yet internally differentiated socio cultural economic political ecological biophysical and historical context give Africa distinctive challenges and opportunities that demand particular approaches to development This edited book presents innovative contributions examining Africa's development performance in diverse sectors during the MDG era as a basis for understanding prospects for its development in the SDG era and beyond It offers new and innovative study perspectives and methodological approaches on urban transformation development financing food security climate change gender equality health and regional integration among other topics and useful insights for scholars students and development practitioners This book was originally published as a special issue of African Geographical Review the journal of the American Association of Geographers Africa Specialty Group to mark the transition from MDGs to SDGs

Belonging without Othering John A. Powell, Stephen Menendian, 2024-04-23 The root of all inequality is the process of othering and its solution is the practice of belonging We all yearn for connection and community but we live in a time when calls for further division along the well wrought lines of religion race ethnicity caste and sexuality are pervasive This ubiquitous yet elusive problem feeds on fears created inherited of the other While the much touted diversity equity and inclusion initiatives are undeniably failing and activists narrowly focus on specific and sometimes conflicting communities Belonging without Othering prescribes a new approach that encourages us to turn toward one another in unprecedented and radical ways The pressures that separate us have a common root our tendency to cast people and groups in irreconcilable terms or the process of othering This book gives vital language to this universal problem unveiling its machinery at work across time and around the world To subvert it John A. Powell and Stephen Menéndez make a powerful and sweeping case for adopting a paradigm of belonging that does not require the creation of an other This new paradigm hinges on transitioning from narrow to expansive identities even if that means challenging seemingly benevolent forms of community building based on othering As the threat of authoritarianism grows across the globe this book makes the case that belonging without othering is the necessary but not the inevitable next step in our long journey toward creating truly equitable and thriving societies The authors argue that we must build institutions cultivate practices and orient ourselves toward a shared future not only to heal ourselves but perhaps to save our planet as well Brimming with clear guidance sparkling insights and specific examples and practices Belonging without Othering is a future oriented exploration that ushers us in a more hopeful direction
