Technological Innovation, Competitiveness, and Economic Growth Onorio Clauser,1992 Spine title Innovation and competitiveness

Innovation in Low-tech Firms and Industries Hartmut Hirsch-Kreinsen,David Jacobson,2008 It is a general understanding that the advanced economies are undergoing a fundamental transformation into knowledge based societies There is a belief that this is based on the development of high tech industries This work offers a discussion concerning the relevance of low tech industries for industrial innovativeness in the knowledge economy

Low-tech Innovation in the Knowledge Economy Hartmut Hirsch-Kreinsen,David Jacobson,Staffan Laestadius,2005 This volume brings together reflections and research findings on so called lowtech industries The accepted wisdom seems to accept that mature industrialised nations are undergoing a fundamental transformation into the much vaunted Knowledge Society There is a firm belief that in this situation the advancement of high tech industries is essential for growth and development Correspondingly in this scenario so called low tech sectors appear to be less important in and for the major industrialised countries The starting point of this volume is a fundamental critique of this widely held belief In fact many of the processes we witness today are based on developments outside the realm of high tech and lowtech industries are important not only for employment and growth but also for knowledge formation in European economies
