

Jane Eyre

Summary: Chapter 1

The novel opens on a dreary November afternoon at Gateshead, the home of the wealthy Reed family. A young girl named Jane Eyre sits in the drawing room reading Bewick's History of British Birds. Jane's aunt, Mrs. Reed, has forbidden her niece to play with her cousins Eliza, Georgiana, and the bullying John. John chides Jane for being a lowly orphan who is only permitted to live with the Reeds because of his mother's charity. John then hurls a book at the young girl, pushing her to the end of her patience. Jane finally erupts, and the two cousins fight. Mrs. Reed holds Jane responsible for the scuffle and sends her to the "red-room"—the frightening chamber in which her Uncle Reed died—as punishment.

Summary: Chapter 2

Two servants, Miss Abbott and Bessie Lee, escort Jane to the red-room, and Jane resists them with all of her might. Once locked in the room, Jane catches a glimpse of her ghastly figure in the mirror, and, shocked by her meager presence, she begins to reflect on the events that have led her to such a state. She remembers her kind Uncle Reed bringing her to Gateshead after her parents' death, and she recalls his dying command that his wife promise to raise Jane as one of her own. Suddenly, Jane is struck with the impression that her Uncle Reed's ghost is in the room, and she imagines that he has come to take revenge on his wife for breaking her promise. Jane cries out in terror, but her aunt believes that she is just trying to escape her punishment, and she ignores her pleas. Jane faints in exhaustion and fear.

Summary: Chapter 3

When she wakes, Jane finds herself in her own bedroom, in the care of Mr. Lloyd, the family's kind apothecary. Bessie is also present, and she expresses disapproval of her mistress's treatment of Jane. Jane remains in bed the following day, and Bessie sings her a song. Mr. Lloyd speaks with Jane about her

Perspectivising Love and Marriage in Charlotte Brontë's "Jane Eyre" and Elisabeth Gaskell's "North and South", 2020-09-07 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2019 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 2 0 University of Wuppertal language English abstract The representation of love and marriage in Charlotte Brontë s Jane Eyre and Elisabeth Gaskell s North and South does not seem to be fundamentally different when looking at the story level the content level of what is narrated cf Fabian 172 alone The female and male characters of both novels struggle in achieving a marriage bond at first due to the class relation between the both of them but after the heroines inherited a sum of money they return to the heroes aids Of course this is just a brief summary of the novels plots to show the similarities both share in their plot structure This paper however will look at the discourse level of both novels thus looking at the presentation level of how the story is narrated cf Fabian 172 in order to measure whether or not the novels by Brontë and Gaskell are as similar as a plain summary suggests For this purpose this paper will perspectivise love and marriage in Gaskell s North and South and Brontë s Jane Eyre meaning it will analyse the narration the focalization the representation of speech and the representation of thought presented in both novels The analyses of these categories will of course focus on the relevant love couples of both narratives Margaret Hale and John Thornton in North and South and Jane Eyre and Edward Rochester in Jane Eyre The first chapters will present the tools and techniques that will be used later for the analyses of both novels presenting first the tools for the analysis of narration and focalization and after that the techniques for the representation of speech and thought The following chapters will use these tools for the analysis of Charlotte Brontë s Jane Eyre focussing initially on the narration and focalization in the novel before turning to the representation of speech and thought The chapters after that will be concerned with Elizabeth Gaskell's North and South similarly it will at first analyse the narration and focalization prior to the analysis of the representation of speech and thought The last chapter will recapitulate the findings of the analyses of both novels in order to evaluate if both can be said to shape the same type of love and marriage like a brief look on the story level suggests or if there are differences that can be observed on the discourse level George Eliot's Works George Eliot, 1895
