Microbial OMICS, an asset to accelerate sustainability in agricultural and environmental microbiology Adolphe Zeze ,Mohamed Hijri,2024-11-07 Microorganisms provide a number of ecosystem services to humans enabling natural systems to benefit from a genetic reservoir for their fundamental functioning and sustainability They also play an important role in the functioning of global ecosystems The development of microbial omics has enabled the deciphering of precise microbial functions in various ecosystems leading to the identification and characterization of numerous provisioning services biological processes and supporting services Additionally microbial omics research has resulted in the development of applied biotechnologies in areas such as food security agriculture aquaculture human health animal health and environmental bioremediation processes Annual Report South Africa. Department of Basic Education,2016 Charcoal, Food, and Water Production in the Tropics: Applying Nexus Thinking to Improve Research and Policy Approaches in Complex Landscapes Tuyeni Heita Mwampamba,Adrian Ghilardi,Rob Bailis,2020-02-04 Editorial Tuyeni H Mwampamba Rob Bailis Adrian Ghilardi Urbanization food and water consumption trends in many tropical countries show that demand for charcoal as a source of cooking energy meat grain and water will rise to proportions that surpass the ability of existing ecosystems to supply these services simultaneously and at desired qualities Consequently drastic changes to policy and practice are needed to improve ecosystem potential and or alter demand trends Traditional charcoal production in sub Saharan Africa South East Asia and Latin America often competes or co exists with livestock keeping and agriculture and has a tendency to occur in water limited woodlands The co occurrence of charcoal and food production results in complex landscapes characterized by strong interactions between subsystems managed by multiple sets of actors with potentially competing objectives These social ecological systems provide goods and services that are essential to millions of people throughout the global south Nevertheless there have been very few detailed studies of such systems particularly on the individual and combined effects of charcoal crop and livestock production on the hydrological system that maintains them and vice versa As a result these multi use landscapes are typically managed by short sighted highly generalized mono sectorial policies that ignore important tradeoffs and undercapitalize on synergies A system level approach could provide important insights that improve and expand current understanding of this energy food water nexus Tackling urgent and complex problems composed of multiple and interrelated factors lies at the heart of nexus thinking an approach that examines the inter relatedness and interdependencies of environmental resources and their transitions and fluxes across spatial scales and between compartments UNU FLORES 2015 and relies on interdisciplinary research and multi sector policy teams It has attracted significant interest from international organizations the private sector and governments as a way to develop integrated equitable solutions that involve inputs from multiple stakeholders However this approach is notably absent in the research arena Identifying appropriate interventions for achieving sustainable charcoal and food production and maintaining the underlying hydrological system on which they depend requires that the systems are considered simultaneously and that their biophysical social and political inter relations are well understood Taking charcoal as the nexus entry point this Research Topic aims to generate new understanding of charcoal production systems by incorporating agriculture and hydrology into the matrix We were interested in empirical articles reviews meta analytical articles and perspective papers that address at least two of the three nexus components and which offer provocative and insightful perspectives into the nexus as a whole We hope that this Research Topic will 1 facilitate identification of research gaps policy opportunities and priorities for the nexus 2 kick start the development of a community of researchers and practitioners working on the nexus and 3 permit the development of a research agenda that explores the nexus globally across multiple study sites

Human Resources Development Review 2008 Andre Kraak, Karen Press, 2008 Through 25 chapters authored by some of the leading researchers in the field the Human Resources Development Review 2008 provides an extensive overview of the contextual factors driving human resources development in South Africa A key theme throughout the volume is the importance of a multi faceted skills development strategy operating at three levels The first entails high skills policies aimed at expanding export oriented manufacturing production and services provision particularly in new globally competitive niche areas The second relates to the economy s ongoing need for intermediate skills as is evident in the shortage of skilled artisans and technologists Finally the provision of basic entry level skills is important in view of the urgent need for large scale job creation schemes triggered by public sector initiatives to ameliorate high levels of unemployment and despondency especially amongst the youth

Economics and Climate Emergency Barry Gills, Jamie Morgan, 2022-08-22 This book explores a series of connected themes focused on the role economics and other influential forms of theory and thinking have played in creating the current predicament and the scope for alternatives and how they might be framed Thirty years have passed since the inception of the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change UNFCCC and the beginning of policy on climate change Thirty wasted years To most politicians long term collective interest has been denominated in meaningless units of time a never and forever that has continually delayed action From complacency has come potential disaster and we are now living in a time of climate emergency and ecological breakdown The next decade is a pivotal period requiring fundamental change But numerous impediments remain Continual material energy and economic growth on a planetary scale are manifestly impossible and yet economic theory takes these as a given and political leadership and policy seem unwilling to accept brute reality Instead they offer a series of implausible commitments and pledges rooted in technofixes without addressing the fundamental drivers of the problems the world faces The edited volume explores the issues and offers a variety of ways to think through the problems at hand from postgrowth degrowth and social ecological economics to policy assemblage and transversalism The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Globalizations     Civil engineering ,2006     Tropical Agriculture ,2015-10     SADC Today ,2003     Annual Report to the National Assembly for the Financial Year Ended ... South Africa.
