Lincoln's Last Hours:

Lincoln's Last Hours Charles Augustus Leale, 1909 Lincoln's Last Hours Charles Augustus Leale, 2019-12-05 In Lincoln's Last Hours Charles Augustus Leale presents a gripping and detailed account of the final moments of President Abraham Lincoln's life following his assassination in 1865. Written with a poignant clarity that reflects both the urgency and tragedy of the events, Leale's narrative merges personal reflection with historical detail, illuminating the chaotic atmosphere in Ford's Theatre and the subsequent efforts to save Lincoln. As a firsthand witness and the only physician present immediately after the shooting, Leale's recounting offers a unique perspective that enriches our understanding of this monumental tragedy in American history and enhances the reader's grasp of the emotional weight carried by such fateful moments. Charles Augustus Leale was a young Union Army surgeon who treated Lincoln as the President lay mortally wounded. Drawing from his experiences on the battlefield and a profound respect for Lincoln, Leale's desire to honor the President's legacy is evident in his poignant prose. His medical background provides not only a realistic portrayal of the events but also reflects the turmoil of a nation grappling with the loss of its leader at a pivotal moment in history. This book comes highly recommended for readers interested in American history, medical narratives, and the intersection of personal experience with significant historical moments. Leale's account is an essential reading for those who seek to grasp the profound impact of Lincoln's assassination, illuminating the man behind the myth and the collective grief that followed. In this enriched edition, we have carefully created added value for your reading experience. A succinct Introduction situates the work's timeless appeal and themes. Lincoln's Final Hours Kathryn Canavan, 2015-10-02 When John Wilkes Booth fired his derringer point blank into President Abraham Lincoln's head, he set in motion a series of dramatic consequences that would upend the lives of ordinary Washingtonians and Americans alike. In a split second, the story of a nation was changed. During the hours that followed, America's future would hinge on what happened in a cramped back bedroom at Petersen's Boardinghouse, directly across the street from Ford's Theatre. There, a twenty-three-year-old surgeon fresh out of medical school struggled to keep the president alive while Mary Todd Lincoln moaned at her husband's bedside. In Lincoln's Final Hours, author Kathryn Canavan takes a magnifying glass to the last moments of the president's life and to the impact his assassination had on a country still reeling from a bloody civil war. With vivid, thoroughly researched prose and a reporter's eye for detail, this fast-paced account not only furnishes a glimpse into John Wilkes Booth's personal and political motivations but also illuminates the stories of ordinary people whose lives were changed forever by the assassination. While countless works on the Lincoln assassination exist, Lincoln's Final Hours moves beyond the well-known traditional accounts, offering readers a front-row seat to the drama and horror of Lincoln's death by putting them in the shoes of the audience in Ford's Theatre that dreadful evening. Through her careful narration of the twists of fate that placed the president in harm's way, the plotting conversations Booth had with his accomplices, and of the immediate aftermath of the assassination, Canavan illustrates how the experiences of a single night changed the course of history. Lincoln's Last Hours Charles A. Leale, M. D., 2015-08-24. ADDRESS delivered before the COMMANDERY OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States at the regular meeting February 1909 City of New York in observance of the ONE HUNDREDTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE BIRTH OF President Abraham Lincoln. Originally published in 1909. Commander and Companions of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States. At the historic pageant in Washington when the remains of President Lincoln were being taken from the White House to the Capitol, a carriage immediately preceding the catafalque was assigned to me. Outside were the crowds, the martial music, but inside the carriage I was plunged in deep self-communion until aroused by a gentle tap at the window of my carriage door. An officer of high rank put his head inside and exclaimed, Dr. Leale, I would rather have done what you did to prolong the life of the President than to have accomplished my duties during the entire war. I shrank back at what he said and for the first time realized the importance of it all. As soon as I returned to my private office in the hospital, I drew down the window shade, locked the door, threw myself prostrate on the bare wood floor and asked for advice. The answer came as distinctly as if spoken by a human being present. Forget it all. I visited our Surgeon General Joseph K. Barnes and asked his advice; he also said, Cast it from your memory. On April 17, 1865, a New York newspaper reporter called at my army tent. I invited him in and expressed my desire to forget all the recent sad events and to occupy my mind with the exacting present and plans for the future. Recently several of our Companions expressed the conviction that history now demands and that it is my duty to give the detailed facts of President Lincoln's death as I know them and in compliance with their request, I this evening for the first time will read a paper on the subject.

Lincoln's Last Hours (Classic Reprint) Charles Augustus Leale, 2015-07-17 Excerpt from Lincoln s Last Hours One of the most cruel wars in the history of the world had nearly closed The people of the United States were rejoicing at the prospect of peace and returning happiness President Lincoln after the surrender of General Robert E Lee visited Richmond Virginia exposing himself to great danger and on his return delivered an address from the balcony of the White House I was then a Commissioned Officer in the Medical Department of the United States Army having been appointed from my native State New York and was on duty as Surgeon in charge of the Wounded Commissioned Officers Ward at the United States Army General Hospital Armory Square Washington District of Columbia where my professional duties were of the greatest importance and required constant and arduous attention For a brief relief and a few moments in the fresh air I started one evening for a short walk on Pennsylvania Avenue There were crowds walking toward the President s residence These I followed and arrived just at the commencement of President Lincoln s last public address to his people From where I stood I could distinctly hear every word he uttered and I was profoundly impressed with his divine appearance as he stood in the rays of light which penetrated the windows of the White House The influence thus produced gave me an intense desire again to behold his face and study the characteristics of the Savior of his Country Therefore on the evening of April 14 1865 after the completion of my daily hospital duties I told my Ward Master that I would be absent for a short time As a very large number from the Army stationed near Washington frequently visited the city a general order was in force that none should be there without a special pass and all wearing uniform and out at night were subject to frequent challenge To avoid this inconvenience officers stationed in Washington generally removed all signs of their calling when off duty I changed to civilian s dress and hurried to Ford s Theatre where I had been told President Lincoln General Grant and Members of the Cabinet were to be present to see the play Our American Cousin About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such
